Kaufman Hints 'Motion'
When Official's Case
Goes Before Court

Court developments indicated today that the trial of ouster proceedings against County Recorder Justice Whitney will be held before Miss Whitney is tried on a grand jury indictment charging appropriation of public funds to her own use.

Miss Whitney's arraignment on the indictment was continued to Jan. 10 by Presiding Judge James L. Allen in superior court today. Her attorney, S. B. Kaufman, told the court he understands the grand jury and the district attorney's office want the ouster proceedings determined before the indictment.

Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis did not oppose the continuance.

Out Of Ouster Case
Mr. Kaufman also said that he will not represent Miss Whitney in connection with the ouster matter, but will continue to be her attorney in the indictment case. She is scheduled to answer the accusation in the ouster proceedings on or before Dec. 26.

At the time of the arraignment Mr. Kaufman will file a demurrer and make a "certain motion," the import of which he did not divulge.

Miss Whitney was present in the courtroom today, but took no part in the proceedings. After the continuance was granted she and Mr. Kaufman departed together.

Seek Outside Judge
Judge Allen said that an effort has been made to secure a judge from outside Orange county to hear the indictment proceedings, but that so far none had been secured. He said that it would be impossible to obtain assignment of an outside judge to the local court until after the Christmas holidays.

The ouster proceedings resulted from an accusation filed by the grand jury, charging Miss Whitney with willful and corrupt misconduct in office. It alleges that she failed to file with the auditor monthly reports of fees collected, until after the date required by law had passed, and that she used funds from the succeeding months to complete her deposits with the treasurer for the months in which her deposits were late. The accusation also said she borrowed money from Robert C. Mize and from employees in her office to (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

DRIVER ROBBED
BY BANDIT

L. C. Lawrence, 1718 Jefferson Place, Santa Ana, made a boulevard stop at Van Ness and First streets at 8:30 p. m. yesterday and was suddenly surprised by a man who thrust a revolver through the open window of the car.

"Stick 'em up," the man ordered, jamming the gun against Mr. Lawrence's ribs.

Mr. Lawrence "stuck 'em up." The next thing he knew, the bandit had his billfold and $9 in cash. The bandit was described as wearing a dark overcoat and dark hat.

Ontario C. of C.,
Lacking Funds, to Cease Functioning

ONTARIO, Dec. 13.—The Ontario chamber of commerce will cease its functions on Feb. 1, 1936, because of lack of finances. Decision to terminate affairs of the chamber was reached at Thursday's meeting of the board of directors.

Operative funds of the chamber are virtually exhausted, and there is no prospect of replenishment, it was stated. Although it was known for some time that the chamber was struggling against monetary difficulties, action of the board came as a surprise to the community. "Widespread indifference" was advanced as reason for the lack of funds. The board, in quitting, expressed its conviction of the need for a chamber of commerce in the city.

PLAN DEBATE ON WATER

Burke and Kellogg to
'Lock Horns' Monday
Night at Laguna

Both sides in the campaign over the county water program have got together. Each has agreed to a debate next Monday night in which each speaker will show the other where he is wrong. It will be the first public debate ever staged in a water bond campaign here.

J. Frank Burke and George Kellogg will be the speakers. Mr. Burke will represent the opposition to the $620,000 bond issue for carrying out the water program, while Mr. Kellogg will speak in support of the project.

Debate at Laguna
The debate will take place at the Laguna Beach high school auditorium. Mr. Burke formerly was editor of the Register. Mr. Kellogg is president of the associated chambers of commerce.

Indorsement of the water program by directors of the Anaheim chamber of commerce was an outstanding development in the campaign yesterday. The directors approved the report of the water committee headed by D. D. Waynick, which recommended that "the water bonds be voted upon Dec. 19, 1935, the support of this organization."

Plan Caravan
Added support for the water project developed last night at a Garden Grove farm center meeting. Plans were made to send a caravan throughout the county next Wednesday to campaign for the bonds. Members of the center voted to declare election day, Dec. 19, a holiday, so all may work for the bonds.

Three Cities Ask for Convention of New Political Body

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—Dr. F. E. Townsend said today he will help form a political party and enter candidates for the presidency and congressional seats in the 1936 election.

The co-sponsor of the plan to pay $200 a month to all persons past 60 years explained, "it is inevitable. Neither of the old parties appear favorable to our cause."

Not To Be Candidate
He replied "I am not" when asked whether he was planning to run for president. He said likewise that R. B. Clements, the other founder of the movement, would not run.

Townsend said that Chicago, Cleveland and Los Angeles had asked that a national convention be held in their particular communities.

He said approximately 5,000,000 people have joined Townsend clubs and said the total support for the movement consisted of about 25,000,000 persons.

Only One Plank
A platform consisting of only a pledge to work for the enactment of the old age pension plan is planned.

"We are not going to make any vague promises that can not be fulfilled," he said.

Tentative plans call for the selection of delegates by club members with definite apportionments to each state.

"Going to Town"

(EDITORIAL)

SANTA ANA is on its way. Progressive voters, proud of their city and determined to give our boys and girls the best Christmas present they ever had, carried the high school bonds yesterday. This means we are going to get those youngsters out of the tents and house them in safe, modern buildings. Santa Ana may well feel jubilant today.

Yesterday's election, we feel, is the sign of a new slant on civic undertakings, on community pride. The vote is an indication that Santa Ana can accomplish big things once it makes up its mind to. We are disappointed because the Lathrop Junior High's auditorium was not approved, but yesterday's defeat does not mean it will be permanently out of the picture.

Next in line are the water bonds to make possible the city's continued development and protection. Development because the project covered by the bonds will provide additional water for irrigation of Santa Ana's trade territory whose prosperity is our prosperity. Protection because the project insures flood control and safety for what has been developed.

Santa Ana is "going to town."

SAN QUENTIN, Dec. 13. (AP)—A chain of fateful Fridays ended today for Arthur D. West, a soldier, who was hanged after Gov. Frank E. Meriam refused to grant a last-minute reprieve.

West shot and killed Raymond V. Lockwood, a fellow soldier at the San Francisco presidio, on Friday, Oct. 5, 1934, because of a "grudge."

The soldier was convicted Friday, Jan. 25, 1935, sentenced Friday, Feb. 1, to hang Friday, April 18. An appeal stayed the execution, but was rejected by the state supreme court Friday, Sept. 27.

TWO DIE, THREE COMMONNAVAL
HURT IN FIGHT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13. (AP)—One policeman was shot dead and three other officers were wounded in a gun battle today with a man they declared became enraged after losing the affections of a girl.

The man, Luciano G. Sanchez, 28, grocery store proprietor, was shot nine times by the officers and died later.

Policeman John Buckley, 38, was shot through the heart. The wounded were: Deputy Sheriff Sal Jimmo, shot in the left arm; Special Officer Chris Maze, wounded in the right arm; Police Captain Dan McNeil, shot through the right arm.

The gun battle started after Sanchez had entered a poolroom and fired a shot into the floor.

Only the Isch and the Eastman families still are there. The rest have moved away in search of greener pastures, or have died, or have "sort of disappeared."

The old horse-trader and stagecoach driver had 50 cents in his pocket when he got to his new home. First he did anything, any kind of a job to keep going. "Times was tough." He hauled water to summer campers, broke horses, built fences. Finally he bought a cow and some chickens, built a little house, and began expansion.

In time he was angling for the stagecoach contract between El Toro and Laguna.

"I'd bought me a good team," he said, "and I wanted a good job." For the privilege of hauling the mail over the mountain run, three times a week, the government paid $25 a month, big money to the young man who wanted a job.

PAIR PLAN APPEAL

Verdict Brings Tears to Congressman in Capital Court

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—Convicted of conspiring to sell an appointment to West Point, Rep. John H. Hoeppel (D., Calif.), and his son, Charles, today planned a quick appeal.

Father and son were found guilty shortly before last midnight by a District of Columbia supreme court jury which deliberated six hours. Two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine is the maximum penalty for the offense.

Appeal Certain
Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Ansell, chief of defense counsel, said: "Of course there will be a motion for a new trial and an appeal."

The government charged conspiracy to sell the appointment for $1000 to James W. Ives, Baltimore, an Olympic athlete of 1932. The verdict was an obvious blow to the 54-year-old representative. He could not hold back tears.

Tells of Offer
The government's principal witness was young Ives. He testified that 21-year-old Charles Hoeppel, under the name of Charles Alexander, told him in Baltimore on May 30, 1934, that he could have a nomination if he would pay for it.

Ives said he delivered a promissory note for $1000 to Charles at the union station in Washington the day after the Baltimore meeting. He was nominated to the academy the same day, he said.

Football Player
Representative Hoeppel, however, testified that he made no appointment to please two high army officers who wanted a good football player sent to the academy. He said the first time he saw Ives "was when he came to my office June 5 and said he wanted to resign because he hadn't taken the entrance examinations and for other personal reasons."

The athlete, however, said he called on the elder Hoeppel and asked for a "legal appointment."

Wheat Prices
CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (AP)—World wheat prices shot higher today following announcement that Argentina had fixed a minimum price for its grain 20 cents above the ruling market. Wheat futures in Chicago jumped the 5 cents per bushel limit permitted by trading rules.

Trading at the opening here was very excited and both December and May wheat contracts were lifted above the dollar-a-bushel level for the first time in recent weeks.

CAPITAL FIRE
INJURES 40

Washington Postoffice
Headquarters Burns;
Farley on Hand

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—Forty firemen were overcome early today fighting unseen flames which caused heavy damage to offices in the new $8,000,000 postoffice department building. Six alarms sounded.

Countless filing cabinets and luxurious office fixtures were destroyed by flames or water as firemen fought the stubborn blaze for hours.

Deputy Chief T. B. Stanton said 40 of the 150 men on the job succumbed to fumes. Two required treatment at emergency hospital.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, started in sixth floor rooms used for the storage of general accounting office files.

One semi-official estimate—and that admittedly rough—put the replaceable damage at "more than $100,000."

Postmaster General Farley was working as usual this morning, three floors below the scene of the fire. Arriving soon after 9 o'clock, when the fire was virtually out, he went immediately to his suite of offices, where he surveyed heavy water damage to the expensive, mahogany-covered reception room, and then retired to his own office. A heavy odor of smoke pervaded his private suite.

A high school building construction program costing $223,900 was assured Santa Ana today.

Voters yesterday indorsed bonds for the project by a vote of 4496 to 2062. The margin of victory was slight, just 124 votes over the necessary two-thirds majority.

Lathrop Bonds Fail
A second issue, calling for the expenditure of $100,000 for construction of an auditorium for the Julia Lathrop Junior High school, was defeated by a margin of 629 votes. The total balloting on this issue was 3637 in favor to 2762 against.

A 4 per cent vote was cast, nearly twice as heavy as that recorded Sept. 25, at the first bond election, when registration of 15,986, a total of 6558 votes were recorded.

Officials Jubilant
School officials were jubilant over the results of the election, and said that plans would be gotten under way immediately for an early start on the building program.

One unit of the proposed work is ready for submission to the state architect's office for approval, it was said, and others will be submitted as soon as plans are drawn up. Pending the state sanction, work on the first unit is ready for immediate start.

May Be PWA Job

If the government allows the expected 45 per cent grant, it was said the work will be done under the supervision of the Public Works administration, or possibly the Works Progress administration.

Students at the high school were housed this fall in temporary tent classrooms when the school board ordered evacuation of three buildings damaged by the earthquake of 1933.

Results as given out last night by the precinct officials will be accepted as final, board members said, although they will be rechecked.

ROOSEVELT URGES STRONGER NEUTRALITY REGULATION FOR U. S.

PRESENT LAW EXPIRES IN FEBRUARY

State Department Seeks Broader Power for Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—President Roosevelt will seek new neutrality legislation early in the next congress.

In making this known at a press conference today, Mr. Roosevelt remarked that the present temporary neutrality law expires next February. Obviously, the President said, he is trying to find something to take its place.

But the chief executive declined to discuss the probable form the administration's proposals would take.

Expires Feb. 28

The exact date of expiration of the present law making it mandatory upon the president to declare an embargo on arms, ammunition and implements of war upon the outbreak of hostilities, is Feb. 28. The President said he did not know at this time, whether he would refer to the subject of neutrality in his message to congress next month. But, he indicated he would reach a decision on the outline of several proposals already advanced within the next two weeks.

In addition to invoking the embargo on implements of war, the government has sought by continuous moral suasion to discourage abnormal trade with both Italy and Ethiopia in commodities such as oil, copper, scrap iron and steel and other articles which it labels "war materials."

Seeks Wider Authority

Apparently because of dissatisfaction with its ability to control such trade in this fashion, the state department has indicated it will propose wider discretionary authority for the President in invoking embargoes.

Such a power would permit him to extend the war implements embargo to other commodities which the government might feel necessary to insure this country's continued neutrality.

But there have been frequent Capitol Hill criticisms of suggestions that the President enjoy a broad discretionary power. Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) only last night voiced absolute opposition to vesting discretionary neutrality power in the chief executive.

Mr. Kaufman's statement today that the grand jury wishes the accusation determined before the indictment is tried gave rise to speculation on the outcome of the two proceedings.

In case the trial of the accusation resulted in Miss Whitney's removal from office, would the grand jury be desirous of pressing charges in the indictment, which constitute a felony and carry a prison sentence? On the other hand, if trial of the ouster charges failed to convince the jury of Miss Whitney's guilt, how would that affect the chances of a conviction in the indictment matter? These questions were discussed in court-house circles today but no one seemed to know the answer.

LONG SAYS HE'S A DEMOCRAT

"I've been a Democrat all my life. My father and grandfather were Democrats and my mother was a Tennessee confederate Democrat."

Sam Long, recommended by the Democratic central committee for the Tustin postmastership, spoke these words today after reports that friends of Hugh Plumb, defeated candidate, were deluging Senator McAdoo with letters of protest.

The protest letters, it is understood, have borne down heavily on the fact that Mr. Long was registered in 1932 as a Republican, while Mr. Plumb's score in that respect is untarnished.

Mr. Long admitted today that he had been in the G. O. P. column once, but indicated that in this respect he is somewhat better off than some Democrats who have been in that camp only once.

To clinch his Democratic record, Mr. Long recalled that in 1914 he was appointed postmaster of Georgetown, Ill., by President Woodrow Wilson. He also was the organizer of the Young Democrats and is secretary of the organization.

WIFE DENIES CRAIG WILL RESIGN

"Mr. Craig has absolutely no intention of resigning from the assembly this year," Mrs. Edward Craig, wife of the assembly speaker from Brea, said today.

"I have been called by practically every newspaper in Southern California this morning," she said, "and I know that the rumor of his resigning is widespread. However, I've had to tell each of them the same thing."

Plans of the speaker for the next campaign or for the immediate future were not known, she stated.

"His plans, or what he will do at election time," she said, "are not even known to us."

Mr. Craig was in Los Angeles today on business, and could not be reached, according to Mrs. Craig.

Reports received by The Journal yesterday were that he planned to resign in the near future to accept a position as public relations counsel with a large Southern California oil or natural gas concern.

Definite assurance was given that he had been offered what one colleague termed "a good job," and general belief was to the effect that he probably would accept.

Speaker Craig is in his fourth term as an assemblyman, and his first as speaker.

MORE ABOUT SCHOOL BOND

viewed by the school board next Thursday.

Cites Confidence

School Superintendent Frank Henderson last night said:

"Results of the election in Santa Ana yesterday show that the people have confidence in the board of education in their efforts to provide adequate facilities for the education of youth. It is to be regretted that the results were unfavorable in the Lathrop Junior High school issue, because the auditorium there is badly needed."

"Appreciation is due the Parent-Teachers' association for its activities in behalf of the bonds, and special mention is due the citizens' committee that headed the campaign. Excellent assistance was given to both measures by the various service clubs, and especially the American Legion and industrial organizations in the community. High school students can look forward to the early completion of the high school building program."

'Needs Realized'

Lynn Crawford, principal of the high school, said: "We of the high school feel that the community realized our needs and decided to finish structures necessary for the needs of the students. We are extremely grateful to the voters for this expression of confidence in the young people, the high school faculty and the Santa Ana board of education. Our only regret is that the Julia Lathrop auditorium proposition failed to carry. We want to express our appreciation to the Santa Ana Journal for its cooperative spirit in giving the voters the information regarding the needs."

M. B. Youel, board of education member, remarked: "It gives me a great deal of personal satisfaction to realize that the people of Santa Ana have expressed their confidence in the board of education through their willingness to support the board's plans for the completion of the high school plant. I particularly wish to express my appreciation to the voters for their support, and to the many people in Santa Ana who assisted in the campaign for the bonds."

Guy Gilbert, chairman of the citizens school buildings committee, which directed the campaign for the passage of the bonds, expressed himself as follows: "To know that right at a time when we are all hoping to cut

TUSTIN TO GET FARM AWARD

The 1935 center improvement award will be made to the Tustin farm center Dec. 18, in the monthly meeting of the center to be held at the Tustin High school, it was announced today by R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange county farm bureau.

The center award, given to the farm center showing the most improvement in the past year, is a new development in farm bureau activities. Centers are judged on programs, attendance and accomplishments during the year.

down in some way on our taxes, our people will vote to spend a large sum of money for the safety of our school pupils simply means that our voters will always do the right thing when an emergency exists that calls for action, and while I am very grateful that we saw fit to provide safe high school buildings yet it does seem that this would have been the proper time to have acted favorably on the much needed Julia Lathrop auditorium, for the reason that it is quite likely that the government will furnish 45 per cent of our cost, and this offer of help may never come to us again.

U. S. Aid Expected
"H. H. Cotton has told me that we would probably receive federal aid on our school bond issue if the bonds carried. He will now be seen and his aid in the matter probably will result in reducing our cost by 45 per cent. "I would like to express my thanks to the various committees, the P-T. A., teachers themselves, the service clubs and all others who so generously helped in putting over the bonds."

EXTRA SESSION HOPES FADE

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 13. (AP)—A special session of the legislature in 1936, taken for granted last summer, is becoming a remote possibility with the approach of the new year.

A high state official, close to the administration, in an off-the-record discussion recently said: "I would bet 50 to 1 against it."

Legislative leaders, upon adjournment of the fifty-first session, said they expected to come back in February and balance the budget. They agreed it was at least $24,000,000 short, the amount of the unemployment relief program for 1936-37.

The actual shortage, Ray L. Riley, controller, and Arlin Stockburger, director of finance, agree, will be nearer $75,000,000 at the biennium's end.

Advisors of the governor have counseled him that all a special session could accomplish would be more taxes, an unpopular step, and an opportunity for political enemies to rake the administration.

In Santa Ana NOW—it's The Journal.

STREET BIDS OPEN TODAY

The state highway commission this afternoon was scheduled to open bids on a project for resurfacing Glassell and Chapman streets for one block each way from the Orange plaza. The estimated cost of the work is $23,000. According to County Surveyor W. K. Hillyard, who prepared plans on the project, it is expected that work will not start until after Jan. 1.

Bids on resurfacing Batavia street, Orange, for a distance of one mile where it was torn up by construction of a storm drain, were opened on Wednesday. The low bid was submitted by the Square Oil company of Redlands, the offer being $6681. It was sent to the state highway department at Sacramento.

FINISHES ONE TERM AND STARTS ANOTHER

Rudy O. Osuna, 23, Anaheim, who Tuesday completed a 10-day sentence in the county jail for violation of the 61st article of war, for refusing to drill with the national guard, was re-booked a few minutes later on charges of drunk driving. He pleaded guilty to the charge in the Orange justice court, and was sentenced to spend another 50 days in the jail.

According to a report by Deputy Sheriff James Workman, Osuna and a companion, Ray Gonzales, 20, Anaheim, on the night of Dec. 1 borrowed a car belonging to Rex Crosby, employee at Bob's cafe on 101 highway, north of Santa Ana. Mr. Crosby assertedly did not give them permission to use the car, but rather than file grand theft charges against them he consented to drunk driving charges. Both pleaded guilty. Gonzales also received a 50-day sentence.

OREGON GIRL IS CLUB WINNER

MELBA ANDREWS

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 13.—For her untiring zeal and success in eight years of 4-H club work in learning the arts of living and homemaking and in rendering many fine services to her community, Melba Andrews, 16, of Eugene, Ore., was honored here recently with the title of national champion in home economics.

She was chosen for the honor from 40 state 4-H champions attending the 14th National Club congress. Miss Andrews was presented a $400 college scholarship by Montgomery Ward, sponsor of the contest for the 13th year. The company was host for the day to 500 girls, 40 of whom it had provided with free trips to Chicago.

The national champion completed 59 subjects in four main subjects in her eight years enrollment. She took part in 15 demonstrations, 12 judging contests and two style reviews. Her prizes won on 100 exhibits at county and national fairs total $220.10. The gross value of her products is $1199.38. Miss Andrews' projects included both home and outdoor subjects.

SEEK HARDIER SUGAR BEET

Steps to organize a series of experiment stations to plant test crops in Orange county in an attempt to develop a hardier sugar beet, more disease-resistant seeds and a more productive plant will be undertaken in the near future by sugar beet department leaders.

Steps in undertaking such a program were outlined Wednesday at a state sugar beet conference in Santa Barbara, Secretary R. D. Flaherty of the farm bureau said today.

The meeting was attended by V. C. Heil, chairman of the Orange county sugar beet department, L. A. Berry and John Murdy, directors of the department, and Mr. Flaherty.

The tests in Orange county will be conducted in cooperation with the university extension service, Mr. Flaherty said today. A general meeting of sugar beet growers will be called early in January to outline plans.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 13.—Word has gone out among truck drivers to be sure their vehicles are within the law or the highway patrolman will get them.

A "flying squadron" operating in several statewide units is in the field today ready to stop each truck that has failed to comply with the several new safety laws provided by the vehicle code, according to E. Raymond Cato, chief of California Highway Patrol.

Particular attention of the patrol is directed to equipment such as brakes, headlights, clearance lights and reflectors. Failure to observe registration rules relative to weight, length and height, and failure to provide flares for emergency stopping on the highways also is coming in for attention of the patrol "flying squadron" units.

ORIENTALS NATURALIZED! But Law Denies Citizenship

Members of the Oriental race cannot become American citizens; yet two Japanese women were naturalized at the examination conducted Thursday before Presiding Judge James L. Allen in superior court.

County Clerk J. M. Backs told today how it was possible for this seemingly impossible event to take place. Both women were born in the United States and therefore were citizens of this country. But each of them married a Japanese man who was not a citizen. Under American law they lost their citizenship by marrying aliens.

The proceedings taken before Judge Allen simply restored citizenship which the women originally possessed by right of birth in this country.

The Japanese women who returned to citizenship are Mrs. Sodie Oba and Mrs. Shigeko Nakayama. Both reside in Santa Ana. Mrs. Nakayama secured consent of the court to change her first name from Shigeru to Shigeko.

PLUMBING FIRM IS ENLARGING

The Russell Plumbing Co. at 921 South Main street is engaged in a building expansion program for the purpose of accommodating a growing business. A second room is under construction connecting with the present display room, and will be available through an archway.

The office space is to be enlarged, and when the improvements are completed convenience in arranging merchandise will be much more effective. It is the expectation the remodeling and building program will be completed the week before Christmas.

URGES VOTES FOR WATER INSURANCE

Passage of Flood Bonds Would Be Protection, Declares Engineer

"Purchase water for Orange county the way you would purchase life, accident, fire or other usual and firmly established forms of insurance," said A. Kempkey, flood control consulting engineer with offices in San Francisco, in a message to Orange county voters today in connection with the Dec. 19 election on the county flood control plan.

"The carrying out of this plan," Mr. Kempkey said, "has for its primary purpose the control of inevitable floods to the end that there shall be neither loss of life nor destruction of property. In other words, the plan when carried out will both provide and constitute insurance against the happening of that thing which without it is sure to happen."

Mr. Kempkey also stressed the fact that in the many engineering studies made of the flood control and water conservation problem in the past there has been a unanimity of opinion, first as to necessity and second as to the magnitude of the requisite structure in order to provide adequate control and protection.

"This is in no sense," he continued, "an appeal to the citizens of Orange county to vote for the issuance of these bonds. It is, however, a sincere request that you shall believe in the honesty, integrity and ability of your technical advisors, all of whom have been in full accord as to these fundamentals which vitally concern your community."

MASONIC RITES HERE TONIGHT

Past masters of Santa Ana lodge No. 241 will take the reins of tonight's meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple, when the third degree will be given.

An oyster supper will follow. All Master Masons are invited. Reservations for the installation dinner Dec. 20 are expected to reach a high mark before Dec. 18, the deadline, because of the appearance of the Rev. James Whitcomb Brounger, Glendale.

Former pastor of many large Baptist churches, the Rev. Mr. Brounger was at one time pastor of the Temple Baptist church in Los Angeles, then went to Oklahoma, then to Fremont temple in Boston where he remained for 10 years. Recently he was made associate pastor to his son in Glendale.

FAIR EXHIBIT TO BE REMODELED

The Orange county exhibit at the exposition at San Diego will be completely remodeled before the Jan. 15 reopening of the exposition. The board of supervisors has set aside the use of the $500 prize money for this purpose, and County Publicity Director V. D. Johnson has outlined the general plan for the remodeling.

Instead of the large jewel box containing a quantity of oranges, the display will show a model orange grove with residence. These will be actual trees approximately 12 inches in diameter, with small golden fruit against a painted background of hill and sky.

The large map now forming part of the exhibit will be moved to the left, and instead of the bare brown walls showing as heretofore, the exhibit will have a canopy ceiling of sky blue.

K. P. CHOOSES F. STEWART

Election of officers at the Knights of Pythias meeting Wednesday night brought the post of chancellor commander again to Floyd Stewart.

Others named were Harry Layton, vice chancellor; Don Preble, prelate; Art Casey, master of work; Dr. Ernest Lively, keeper of records and seals; Charles Weber, master of finance; A. A. Tucker, master of exchequer; Joe Layton, master at arms; Jack Elledge, inner guard; Ed Morley, outer guard, and John Ritter, trustee.

I. T. U. AUXILIARY ANTICIPATES CHRISTMAS DINNER

Reminding I. T. U. auxiliary members that reservations for their annual Christmas dinner to be held this Saturday night must be made in advance, Mrs. William Lawrence, president, directed plans for the event at a meeting this week at the home of Mrs. E. W. Ellis, 725 Cypress street.

The dinner will begin promptly at 6:15 o'clock at the Rossmore cafe. George Robinson, secretary of the I. T. U., his son, Norman, and E. F. Sloan are to be special guests.

Five new members were voted at the meeting to include Mrs. G. L. Helm, Mrs. Ben Chesley, Mrs. Joe Randall, Mrs. M. J. Daschner and Mrs. R. A. Hawks, Anaheim. Obligation was extended to Miss Catherine Rousseau, Mrs. Helm, Mrs. Daschner and Mrs. Hawks. Remaining candidates will be inducted at the next meeting.

Mrs. C. A. Rousseau, 1221 South Main street, will be hostess at the next business meeting with Mrs. E. R. Kimmel as co-hostess. At the January social meeting, Mrs. Tracy Hamner of Los Angeles will talk on "Union Labels."

Others present were Mesdames William Lawrence, George Wright, E. R. Kimmel, W. M. Graybiel, Charles Claytor, F. E. Stilwell, J. W. Jones, Mabel Sherwood, C. W. Brakeman, Carl Fisher, J. A. Patison, C. C. Thrasher, C. A. Rousseau and V. C. Shidler.

TODAY'S FRIDAY THE 13TH! And Does Santa Ana Know It?

With people dodging black cats, walking around ladders, and holding tightly to mirrors today, it became apparent that this is another ill-fated and much-feared Friday the 13th.

"Everyone is superstitious," Edward M. Nealley, instructor of psychology and philosophy at Santa Ana Junior college, said this morning. Nealley studies superstitions both psychologically and as to their origin in his classes.

According to Mr. Nealley, superstitions originated as man began to get an idea of an invisible realm. Superstitions are either an instinct of fear of the invisible or are developed from surroundings, he said.

No 13th Street

Examples of the prevalence of superstitions is the fact that Santa Ana has no 13th street; it was named Washington avenue. There also is the well-known lack of 13th floors and rooms in hotels.

"Superstition is an emotional twinge; the intellect tells that there is nothing in it," Mr. Nealley said. "But these superstitions vary from time to time, as the fear of the invisible is ready to attach to any new occurrences. The old idea of horseshoes bringing good luck has passed to a certain extent, with the disappearance of the horse."

Actors Superstitious

"People in certain trades are often more superstitious than others. Hollywood actors and actresses are among the extremely superstitious."

The most widely believed superstition at present is that of knocking on wood after boasting of good luck or good health, according to various surveys completed at Santa Ana Junior college and other universities throughout the United States.

Some Popular Ones

Among the most popular superstitions today are: Knocking on wood, four leaf clovers, prophetic dreams, No. 13, opening umbrellas in the house, fortune telling, sleeping on wedding cake, black cats, post between two people while walking, picking up pins, Friday walking under a ladder, breaking a wishbone, wishing on stars, moon over shoulder, premonitions, breaking mirrors, hoodoos, jinxes, charms, No. 3, wishing on load of hay, weather signs, carrying im-the day of the crucifixion of Christ and there were 13 at the table for the Last Supper. Breaking a mirror has been traced to the idea that savages believed that a reflected image or picture is really a person's soul. The superstition of three on a match developed during the Boer war when it was discovered that a match held long enough to light three cigarettes would offer a target for enemy guns.

CASE NO. 2 SAVED FROM EYE AND BRAIN OPERATION
A twenty-day-old baby was saved from an eye removal operation, or a brain operation, through chiropractic adjustments.

CASE NO. 3 NIGHT SWEATS

A Santa Ana business man. Case History—Severe night sweats. Tired and malaise feeling. Lack of appetite. Condition entirely overcome through chiropractic service. Full of pep and very capable of carrying on his work.

CASE NO. 4 HEADACHES

An oil worker suffered with headaches three and four days out of the week. The cause entirely eliminated. Also, his wife was nervous and sick for many years. With fine results obtained through our chiropractic health service.

CASE NO. 5 ASTHMA

Two outstanding cases: A little girl, age five. A little boy age six, with most remarkable results.

CASE NO. 6 COLDS AND FEVER

Baby one year old. History—Reveals an earlier case of Pneumonia. Parents amazed at remarkable recovery under chiropractic as compared with their previous experience.

CASE NO. 7 PARALYSIS

All of these cases show astounding results with few adjustments. Two cases had to be assisted into the office, and walked out unassisted. Another fell from chair, complete paralysis set in. Three days later was up and around.

CASE NO. 8 RUPTURE AND EYE TROUBLE

A young man with both conditions had outstanding results. Hernia corrected, and eye condition improved. Glasses removed permanently.

CASE NO. 9 LUMBAGO

In addition to lumbago this case suffered with a disturbance of the vocal cord. Both conditions responded at the same time.

CASE NO. 9-A

Another case of lumbago bedridden for twenty days was assisted into the office, and walked out unassisted.

CASE NO. 10 INSANITY

This case was committed to the state institution, pronounced incurable. Is now home and happy. Results obtained through chiropractic adjustments.

CASE NO. 11 TYPHOID FEVER

(a) First case given but a few hours to live. Health restored through chiropractic adjustments. Individual still healthy and happy from results secured more than ten years ago.
(b) Second case doctors uncertain as to diagnosis. Typhoid fever, or spinal meningitis. Case returns to work ten days after the first adjustment.

M. E. MERGER PLAN TOLD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—A plan to bring 8,000,000 Methodists together into a united church after more than 100 years of separation was disclosed in detail for the first time yesterday.

A judicial council with power to rule on the constitutionality of church conference actions is an important part of the plan. The council's functions would be somewhat similar to those of the supreme court.

The council idea is incorporated in a "plan of union" to consolidate the three main denominational groups of Methodists in this country under a new name—the Methodist church.

The plan recently was ratified at Cincinnati by representatives of the Methodist Episcopal church, the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church. Details were announced by Dr. Harry E. Woolver, secretary of the joint commission on Methodist union.

Before the plan can go into effect it must be approved by the general conferences of the three denominations. Two of these meet next May and the southern church two years later. Then the local churches must ratify through annual conferences.

J. C. DEBATES AT CHAFFEY

Second in the first round of debates for Santa Ana Junior college was to be held today when a local negative team went to Ontario to meet Chaffey Junior college.

Chaffey's debate team was to uphold the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That congress shall have the power to override any decision of the supreme court in declaring legislation unconstitutional by a two-thirds majority vote." The debate match was to be held at 12:15, following a luncheon honoring the visiting team.

Morris Christy and Lawrence Nowlan compose the negative team, with Gordon Bishop as alternate.

Another Santa Ana negative team, composed of Kenneth Stowell and James Bartlett, debating the same question won the decision from an affirmative team from Riverside Junior college last week.

Quints Wealthy Now; But Many Gifts Are Coming

CALLANDER, Ont., Dec. 13. (AP)—Wealthy movie actresses now, the Dionne quintuplets don't need presents this Christmas as they did last Yuletide, but the gifts are expected to start rolling in soon.

Like other children, rich or poor, the five little sisters will be glad to see them, too.

So far there has been no shower of presents. Perhaps there will be fewer than last Christmas when the girls were only seven months old, comparatively poor, and needed toys, clothes and furnishings for their home.

NEW 'SAFETY' TIRE LAUDED

Highway safety has received a remarkable contribution by engineers of the General Tire and Rubber company which has just recently developed a new tire called the Dual-10, said by District Representative Hubert Bown to be 10 to one the best tire on the market, while the next best is six to one.

This new safety tire was demonstrated before dealers at a meeting in the Biltmore hotel yesterday by Frank Gable, chief engineer of the company, who flew from Akron to attend the meeting. He explained the scientific details, and with motion pictures showed how the tire was constructed. Fire chiefs, sheriffs, chiefs of police and newspaper reporters were guests of the General Tire company at an all-day session. The district includes from Bakersfield south, and the state of Arizona.

General Tire company engineers assert the Dual-10 will stop a car straight in its tracks in one-half the distance that any conventional tire would. This gripping ability is due to the softness of the carcass and softness of the veins of the tread. Engineers say the reason for naming the tire the Dual-10 is its greater safety of 10 to one against bursting or blowout, it stops a car quicker than any other tire, and stops a car straight in its tracks.

The new Dual-10 will be handled by C. J. Skirvin, the Santa Ana distributor.

ASK $76,369 IN DAMAGE PLEA

Seeking judgments totaling $76,369, Beulah Haskett and Jean Haskett Templeton this week started suit in superior court against Leonard L. Tanner and others, as a result of an automobile accident in which the plaintiffs were injured Oct. 27. The crash between the car in which they were riding and the one driven by Mr. Tanner occurred at Stanton road and Manchester boulevard.

Mr. Tanner was acting as agent for E. R. Haskins, who also was made a defendant, according to the complaint. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tanner, parents of the driver of the Haskins car, also were made defendants.

Beulah Haskett sustained a fractured skull among other injuries. She asked $25,000 damages and $370 incidental expenses. Jean Haskett Templeton suffered fracture of the right clavicle, fractured ribs and other injuries for which she asked $50,000, and incidental expenses of $999.

20-30 TO INSTALL LUTZ PRESIDENT

John Lutz, secretary of the Santa Ana 20-30 club, will be seated next Tuesday night as the new president at installation ceremonies to be conducted by past presidents of the club. Mr. Lutz was elected president last week.

Other officers to be installed are John Knox, jr., first vice president, and Dr. Herbert Stroschein, second vice president. The board of directors for the coming year will consist of the officers and Phil Newman, Harvey Bear, Fred Lamping and Dr. G. Stanley Norton. The board of directors recently named Newell Vandermast secretary and George Bradley treasurer. Deputy District Attorney Clarence Sprague will be sergeant at arms for the coming term.

Mr. Lutz succeeds J. Wayne Harrison as president.

Sampson and Pros
About Rose Bowl

Encouraged by success of his professional wrestling shows and somewhat dejected at the slump amateur boxing is taking, Promoter Sam Sampson of the Orange County Athletic club is leaning seriously toward professional fighting for the Highway 101 arena.

Press Agent Tige Clinton and your correspondent, both pro boxing fans, cornered Sammy last night before the bouts and no sooner did we launch some arguments in favor of the sock-for-cash boys than we were halted.

Sampson had some notions of his own. He thought more of the idea than we did.

Chief trouble with the amateur shows is that no power or penalty on earth can make an amateur boy show up for a battle if he makes up his mind to duck out. The amateur boy is the spoiled son of the state athletic commission. He shows or he doesn't, just as he pleases. Thus, substitutions constantly mar the Thursday shows here.

Sam is about at the breaking point. Every boxing show costs him money but business is on the up grade at the Monday night wrestling matches.

So we look for a switch soon. Sampson hinted he might try the simon-pures every other week and the professionals sandwiched in. Should the pros draw no better than the amateurs, the latter would be retained since purse expenses are considerably lower.

Southern California has an abundance of good club fighters and it's our guess that it wouldn't take more than one or two big names to make the arena as full on Thursday nights as it is on Mondays.

It's not a bad bunch, either, that Sam would be wise to pick up the professional boxing permit for this area before someone else comes along and grabs it.

But we boxing fans must sit tight. Sam Sampson is an astute promoter. Boxing is his first love. He will bring it back here the way we all want it, amateur or professional.

This is the last time this season we'll say anything about backsliding of Western football. In fact we'll let a few figures speak for us. Western football fans want action and when they know they're going to get it (Please Turn to Page 10, Col. 1)

COACH FOOTE SELECTS 26 LETTERMEN

Newell (Jeff) Cravath to Speak at Banquet in Green Cat Cafe

Twenty-six lettermen—and other members of the Saint aggregation with an enviable record of six victories in nine games—will be honored at Santa Ana High school's annual football banquet in the Green Cat cafe at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Open to the public, the dinner-program will feature a talk by Newell (Jeff) Cravath, coaching aide of Howard Jones at U. S. C., and the announcement of a 1936 captain to succeed Erwin Youel.

Coach Cravath, one of Santa Ana's grid greats who gained wide recognition as a center at U. S. C. in 1926, will be accompanied here by Joe Preininger, Trojan lineman who played for the Saints five years ago.

The Philos, boys' service club headed by Dwight Nott, have charge of the affair.

W. W. (Bill) Foote, Saint coach, called a meeting yesterday of players at the high school, where his lettermen conducted a secret ballot for their 1936 leader. Only Coach Foote and '35 Captain Youel know the results of the election, which will be announced tonight.

The list of lettermen follows: Ends—Capt. Erwin Youel, Harold Short, Bill Semminger, Don Kennedy. Halfbacks—Warren Mann, Carroll Joy, Les Bock, Dwight Nott, Len Stafford, Bias Mercurio. Fullbacks—Vincent Sitta, Bill Musick, Bob Dunning. Managers—Ed Evans and his assistant, Abe Fairbank.

UCLANS, GAELS RATED EVEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13. (AP)—The powerful Bruins of U. C. L. A., tied with California and Stanford for conference leadership, will test their heavy line and shifty backfield against the fast-improving St. Mary's Gaels here tomorrow in the bay region's college finale.

Each with a record bright in spots, the teams loom evenly-matched, the edge perhaps going to the Gaels, mainly through their sparkling performance last Sunday in crushing University of Oregon, 18 to 0.

Saint Casaba Squad Faces Two Battles

Engagements with two Orange County Prep league fives—Tustin here today and Orange here Monday—will occupy the present interest of Santa Ana High school's basketball forces.

Baffled by the steady defensive play and lightning passes of the Cardinals, Coach Reece Greene's Saint Casaba tossers came out on the short end of a 40-23 score in a game at Whittier yesterday, indicating they still have room for improvement before beginning their quest for Coast league honors with Long Beach Poly, San Diego and Alhambra in a double round next month.

REBOIN FIVE ENTERTAINS OCEANSIDE

Bothered by an injury to his left ankle, Forward Tommy Lacy nevertheless probably will see part-time service with Santa Ana's Dons in their basketball exhibition with Blanchard Beatty's Oceanside Junior collection in the high school gym at 7:30 tonight.

Coach Al Reboin has nominated Ken Nissley, another ex-Saint, to replace Lacy in the starting lineup, but the ace scorer of the Dons will be inserted early unless his ankle ailment becomes more severe today.

Ex-Santa Ana Beatty, who coached the Dons last winter before hooking up with Oceanside, will bring here a club that is reported well groomed despite the handicap of no gym facilities. The Oceansiders are said to go through most of their drills on a dirt court.

Harry Stanley will team with the petite Nissley at forward. Letterman Fred Erdhaus will be at center. Leonard Lockhart, ex-Saint ace, and Clarence (Tay) Riggs, the transfer from Illinois, will be at guard. The injured Lacy is leading in team scoring with 33 points. Lockhart has 13, Stanley and Riggs 11.

HIPPS SCORES KAYO OVER BURKHART

Willie Fields Downs Baby Rosales in Fast Battle

By PAUL WRIGHT
Jack (Hippo) Hipps, broad-shouldered sailor, floored Al Burkhardt, greasy Negro from the Los Angeles Smart Set club, for an easy knock-out in the second round of the main event at Promoter Sam Sampson's fistic emporium last night.

All the black box seemed to have a willingness to mix, and this pleasing trait quickly led to his downfall when he came in contact with Hipps' slashing right after standing up under a few well-directed punches in the first round. He took an eight-count and staggered to his feet only to absorb another punishing blow that returned him to the canvas.

Fields Shows Class
Some of the supporting bouts, particularly the first between Willie Fields, neat colored lad with 124 pounds of well-proportioned muscle, and Placencia's Baby Rosales, stole most of the thunder on the eight-bout card. The clever Fields used an effective left to gain a popular decision over the plugging Rosales.

The awkward maneuvers of Larry Higdon, elongated sailor from the U. S. S. Chicago, and wild swinging Larry Thomas of Pomona furnished the evening's comedy, with Higdon winning a close decision, mainly on the strength of a blow that sent Thomas through the ropes in the fourth round.

Maxie Moore, Orange griddler, knocked out John Horton of the Smart Set with a right to the jaw after a few seconds of dull prancing in the first round. Al Garcia, Santa Ana, won a technical knockout over Martin Hill, Pomona, in the third round. Art Arroya, Westminster, was handed a close decision over colored Jimmy Johnson of Los Angeles, and Raoul Solis scored a knock-out over Roy Gary of Los Angeles in the second.

Gary half-trying after receiving an accidental blow below the belt from Solis' knee in the opening round.

Reyes Is Wild
Most spirited bout of the evening saw towering Mike Reyes of Los Angeles winning a decision from Bill Bustin of the U. S. S. Pensacola. As if he were walking on hot coals, Reyes rushed all over the ring, and while in the clinches applied several peculiar uppercuts to Bustin's chin. His wild flourishes were highly entertaining.

CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (AP)—The boys with the bulging bankrolls had folded up their checkbooks today with the three-day major league baseball conflagration at an end.

Paulino May Be Hard for Bomber

(There will be no broadcast of tonight's New York fight between Joe Louis and Paulino Uzcudun.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—A year—almost to the day—after he first achieved national recognition as a boxer, dusky Joe Louis will step into the Madison Square Garden tonight to give his now-famous punch its hardest test on the cast-iron feature of Paulino Uzcudun.

It was on Dec. 14, 1934, that Joe beat Lee Ramage. Since then he has fought as often as his manager would let him, and seldom has failed to produce a knockout with his lethal left.

20,000 to Watch
He put boxing back into a "big time" basis last summer with his bouts against Primo Carnera and bomber's managers, summed up his progress thus:

"Every time Joe has fought he has met and whipped somebody a little tougher than the man before. He was better against Max Baer than he was against Carnera. And he'll be better against Paulino."

Scribes on Hand
Big delegations of fans and sports writers are expected from other cities, especially Detroit and Chicago; extra press seats had to be installed; extra police will be assigned to the garden area and some 1200 more will patrol Harlem.

The weighing-in ceremony at 2 p. m., usually held in the state athletic commission offices, has been transferred to the garden because of the crowd expected. The heavyweight champion, Jimmy Braddock, will be on hand to see the man he may have to fight next fall for the title, and five former champions will be present.

Among them is Max Schmeling, who is slated to meet Louis next June providing the Bomber gets past Paulino, Izzy Gastanaga and Charley Retzlaff.

GRIDDERS HONORED
REDLANDS, Dec. 13. (AP)—Sixteen members of the Redlands university football team, beaten only once this year, were awarded letters for the 1935 season. The most valuable player awards went to Archie Cochrane, center, and Reinold Peterson, a back.

COMMUNITY SONGFEST TONIGHT

Christmas Music to Be Feature at Willard Auditorium

"God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" will lift through the air tonight at Willard auditorium when Santa Ana gathers for a community Christmas song under auspices of the adult education department of the city schools.

Hugo Kirchhoffer, Los Angeles and Hollywood song leader of renown, will lead the round of yuletide carols and favorite songs.

As part of the program, Ernest Crozier Phillips, head of the Santa Ana Junior college drama department, will read "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke.

Preceding the program, adult education department faculty will gather for a dinner in the Willard cafeteria.

The song fest is open to the public. Reservations have already been received for 100 seats, so others who plan to come are urged to gather at the auditorium before 7:30 o'clock.

NOVELIST DIVORCED

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13. (AP)—Gigi Parrish, one-time Wampus baby star of the films, won a divorce from Dillwyn Parrish, novelist, yesterday.

HIGH COURAGE

by Jeanne Bowman.

SYNOPSIS: Anne Farnsworth has suddenly found herself allied with the Farnsworth fishermen against the present management of the Farnsworth Canneries. The Canneries are in the hands of Anne's relatives, and these relatives are allied against her. By an unexpected change in Luke Farnsworth's will, Anne has been cheated out of the large estate he left. What hurt even more, Anne has found she is not even Luke's daughter. She is living among the Farnsworths, who dislike her former fiancé, Rob Crocker, very much.

Chapter 26 CROCKER AGAIN

"The men are sore," replied Orvi to Anne's question. "They want to fight. . . that is a . . . to fight somebody, and John's trying to make them wait and let the law handle it."

A little shadow of unhappiness clouded the afternoon, for Anne felt the man was connected with the Farnsworth Fisheries, and with Rob in town.

Orvi, to distract her attention, pointed to the new giletter below.

Anne looked down. A neat boat with a small cabin was chafing at the line holding it to the piling. She was not the one the boys had first thought of, but a better one, painted white on the outside and sea-green on the inside.

"Come on down, it's good you got on slacks, no place for dresses getting tied round your ankles," he said, as he helped her over the side.

George, already down the ladder, dropped lightly into the boat and held it steady for Anne, and a moment later John and Mina joined them. The line was cast

HAVENS WRITES ABOUT WATER

Editor, The Journal:

For many years the writer has used columns of space in various newspapers in advocating various propositions. At other times sharply criticizing public officials or propositions.

For many years I have urged water storage and flood control. Now we have a chance to vote upon it. Friends, I am amazed that we have four men on our board of supervisors who would give such a project even a passing thought; I am sick at heart that there is so much evidence of collusion and political intrigue woven all through the whole set up. I shall tell you more about this matter tonight, the 12th day of Dec. 1935, in the Garden Grove grammar school auditorium. If possible come out and hear my views. If you cannot, and believe that I have no ulterior motives, and I know many of you feel that way, vote NO on this water bond deal—not a dam, but an outright attempt to let politicians get hold of a huge sum of public money.

THERE is a workable plan being considered and it is 100 per cent effective in flood control and water conservation on a 50-50 proposition. The present plan is flood control and very little else. Our flood control engineer told this writer that 97 per cent of flood water in the Santa Ana could be sunk underground with this flood control dam as a factor! Why, friends, a pet coon ought to know better than that—it is a geological impossibility to sink water through two thick strata of clay, and I challenge him to produce proof to the contrary. I thank you, friends, and hope that by May Year's you will see a plan that has been evolved by some local men and it has not cost the county a thin dime. One fourth of this $12,000,000 project would be ample for this plan.

CHAS. F. HAVENS.
Orange, R. D. 2.

long as he doesn't know where you are, he can't harm you."

"Harm me?" queried Anne, in surprise, "but why should he do me any physical harm? That's what you mean, isn't it?"

"I don't know why he should, Nikki, and none of us will know until we have heard the final reading of Luke's will, and he knows you won't interfere with his wife's share . . . you see the fewer the kin, the larger the share."

"But, John, I can't sit quietly at home taking care of myself if I could be doing something to avert this trouble."

"I don't know what you could do," he assured her, "that we're not trying to do. If we can prove collusion between the trap owners and Crocker, with intent to defraud the government, then we can prosecute, but it's hard work doing that. The commission accepted our report, investigated and declared everything had been conducted legally. I appreciate that. They can do nothing without proof and I don't know how we'll get it."

"Maybe I could help—"

"Nikki," there was alarm in John's voice, "don't try, please don't try. Can't you trust me? Won't you promise to take care of yourself while I'm away?"

"I . . . why . . ." Anne's cheeks were flooded with color. John's quick eye had sprung from his heart. It was personal, and yet, Anne reasoned, he might feel that way about any defenseless woman. "I'll promise not to do anything without first giving it long thought," she compromised, then spoke quickly. "What is that?"

"That's the boat song from the Kalevala, the national epic of the Finnish people," explained John. "Sing it in English," Anne asked.

And John, looking toward the setting sun, sang:

And the boat with red he painted,
And adorned the prow with gilding,
And with silver, overlaid it—

And upon the sea he steered it,
Over the blue and plashing billows—
The sun slipped into the Pacific like a golden disk, turning the horizon clouds to rose and amber. Twilight moved in from the sea and the new boat paused in its rhythmic chugging until the net was cast, the top line floating in a rounded loop. Buoy lights were set twinkling and everywhere Anne looked it seemed as if fishermen had loosed a horde of fireflies to float sparkling on the waves.

"Come and get it," sounded Mina's voice from the cabin, breaking the enchanted spell of the evening.

They crowded into the little galley, to balance bowls of steaming hot stew on uncertain knees, to spread biscuit with berry jam and to drink heavy cups full of coffee. Then, still talking and laughing, they went back on deck.

Anne, wrapped now in John's great coat, sat in calm contentment, listening to the slap of waves on the boat's sides, the muted voices of the men and, occasionally, a shout of laughter or song from a nearby boat.

This was peace, and with it an undercurrent of pleasurable excitement.

She looked out to where a liner moved across the bar, her stately sides punctuated with round yellow lights from her portholes.

Poor Luke—he hadn't even had the solace of his belief in her. And he was right. She would have married Rob, unknowing, unsuspecting his real nature. Luke, without time to plan, had had to turn to the one person he could trust, that he thought he could trust, Lee Farnsworth.

Suddenly Anne stood up. Lee Farnsworth! Perhaps there was a way out of this trouble after all, and she could go back to her new home and rest in peace, her work accomplished.

Anne takes an important step, Monday.

SANTA ANA BOY IN UNUSUAL RECORD AT UNIVERSITY

Gene R. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thompson of Santa Ana, added another scholastic achievement to his record this week when he passed his senior year's examinations at the University of Chicago after taking only two-and-a-half months' instruction.

He was the only one of his class to pass the examinations and it is the first time in the history of the university, said his father, that a student has ever accomplished a year's work in the heavy schedule which he carried, in such a short period.

Three Scholarships
Students are graduated at Chicago as soon as they can pass their examinations and are not required to fulfill a specified length of time at the university. Quantity and quality of the studies are planned to cover a year's duration for the average student, however. Young Thompson will be remembered by Santa Anans as the first student at Santa Ana Junior college to ever be offered scholarships from three universities. He was editor of Del Ano in 1934, his graduate year, an honor student throughout Santa Ana High school and Junior college, and a popular critic of student literary work.

Two Years at Chicago
He has taken his two years' work at Chicago on a scholarship and financed his own expenses as he did in jaycee and high school. A member of Chi Psi social fraternity, the student has also written plays for Black Friars, college dramatics group, and numerous campus publications.

He will be awarded his A. B. degree next Tuesday evening, Dec. 17. He intends to win his M. A. and a Ph.D. from the University of California at Berkeley.

Home in time for the Christmas holidays, young Thompson will decide on one of the teaching or studio positions which have been offered him. He majored in comprehensive English, dramatic art and philosophy.

P. O. STILL IN 'RED'; WANTS TO RETAIN 3-CENT POSTAGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—Postoffice department officials have told a house appropriations sub-committee that postal service again is "in the red" and indefinite retention of the 3-cent postage is desirable.

Chairman Ludlow (D-Ind) of a sub-committee conducting hearings on the treasury-postoffice appropriations bill for 1936, said testimony showed the situation unfavorable to restoration of 2-cent postage.

MALONEY FACES YOUSSEF HERE

The Irish heavyweight wrestler, George Maloney, who side-stepped his match with Nick Lutze Monday night has been ordered to fulfill his contract with the Orange County Athletic club and will parade his spectacular "Irish Whip" at the expense of Terrible Turk Youssef in Monday night's special attraction at the 101 Highway club.

Maloney claimed that he notified the club that he would be unable to appear due to conflicting dates, but Promoter Sampson asserted that it was not until 7 o'clock on the night of the show that he received word from the Irishman and was forced to round up 320-pound Thor Johnson as Maloney's substitute.

Lutze and Casey Columbo, exponents of science and two of the most popular grapplers in this section met in the three fall feature Monday with Babe Zaharias opposing Milo Steinborn in the secondary feature. The opener shows a pair of little fellows, Wild Bill Grubbs and Baby Coleman, young Jewish star.

ACTIS BATTLES FRANK ROWSEY

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13. (AP)—Ray Actis, rated in the San Francisco bay region as a great fistic prospect, meets Frank Rowsey, Los Angeles heavyweight, in the 10-round feature of the Legion stadium's boxing program tonight.

On the basis of his showing in the northern part of the state, the Oakland fighter was favored in the betting 10 to 8 over Rowsey.

MORE ABOUT COLUMN LEFT!

There isn't a stadium in the Southland big enough to hold 'em. Witness:

Southern Methodist came out here and turned the Coliseum into a pass-throwing circus in trimming U. C. L. A. Then the Mustangs got the Rose Bowl bid. Result:

More than 200,000 fans have requested tickets for the New Year's classic! Of course, the Rose Bowl only holds 84,600 persons so most of the would-be fans are out of luck. The "sold out" sign has been flapping in the breeze for about a week, yet applications for tickets continue to swamp the Pasadena ticket office.

The Rose Bowl actually was sold out within one week after Southern Methodist accepted the invitation. Any schoolboy knows why. Because the Mustangs will provide more of the kind of football that was decidedly lacking on the Pacific Coast this year.

When 200,000 fans ask (with money) for something better than present-day Coast football, that should be warning enough.

looked more impressive than during their 17-13 victory over Leuwhing of Inglewood. Whittier fell behind, 5-6, until the second period. The Cards had a 15-11 lead going into the final half, and a 23-16 margin going into the last quarter. Woodward, Whittier center, made a dazzling attack on the basket for 13 points that sewed up the game in the waning minutes.

Ed Eastham, rugged center, was not in the best of condition following a minor illness, or the Cards might have extended the Whittier club. Guard Bill Flood and Forward Bill Milligan were Santa Ana's high scorers with 8 and 7 points.

Coach Clyde Cook's Class B five lost, 25-30, to Whittier. Gabriel Mercado scored 12 points for the Saints.

The lineups:
Whittier (40) Pos. (23) Santa Ana
Dedmon (5) F. (7) Milligan
Marist (4) F. (2) Tway
McKinney (10) C. (4) E. Eastham
J. Lewis G. (1) S. Lockhart
Larson (2) G. (8) Flood

Score by Quarters:
Whittier 6 9 8 17-40
Santa Ana 8 3 5 7-23
Substitutions:
Whittier—Allison (2) for Dedmon, S. Lewis (4) for Marist, Woodward (13) for McKinney, Pugh for J. Lewis, Claxton for Larson, Larson for Pugh, Santa Ana—Yonel (1) for Tway, Morris for Yonel, Tway for Milligan, H. Eastham for S. Lockhart, Beal for Tway.

Officials:
Referee, O. M. Finch.

GOLFERS CAPTURED BY MRS. COLBURN ANNEX MEDAL PLAY

Mrs. Jack Colburn's team of women golfers outpointed Mrs. H. H. Harwood's collection, 9 to 3, at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday, and will be treated to a dinner by the losers next Thursday.

CHAMP MORMONS DEFEAT BRETHREN FIVE, 61 to 15

The Champion Mormons handed United Brethren a terrific beating, 61 to 15, in Community Church league basketball at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Forward Rhotan's 21 points ushered Christian Missionary Alliance to victory over the Southern Methodists, 38 to 13.

DAVIS MAY MISS PITT BATTLE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13. (AP)—Davie Davis, first team quarterback, was added to Southern California's list of improbable starters against Pittsburgh today when it was learned the rugged little signal caller is suffering from a bad cold.

It was the second time in as many days that one of Coach Howard Jones' proposed starting backs for the intercollegiate clash at Memorial Coliseum tomorrow was stricken off the list—temporarily at least. Owen Hansen, a blocking half, injured an ankle in practice, and may not play.

Many Pairs

PATTERN 5241

One pair of gloves doesn't make a winter—not when crocheted ones are so popular and at the same time so easy to make. Here is a pair that you are sure to want to add to your glove wardrobe. Fitting snugly about your wrists to keep out winter winds, are gauntlet cuffs worked in a loose, star stitch in bright stripes of color. The hands are in easy, plain crochet. You'll be seeing them on many well-dressed hands soon, so get busy with your crochet hook!

In pattern 5241 you will find complete instructions for making the gloves in a small, medium and large size (all given in one pattern); illustrations of the gloves and of all stitches used; color suggestions; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Santa Ana Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 W. Fifth.

GOOD VEAL ALMOST WHITE

Good veal is a grayish pink, almost white in color and it has a very scanty covering of firm fat. The meat is of a very fine grain, fairly firm, velvety in texture and it is not marbled or mottled with fat. The bone is porous, soft and red and the ends of some of the bones are still pliable.

ISINGLASS FOR SUNSHADES

PARIS (AP)—Isinglass visors are a new trick in sunshades for Palm Beach wear. They are attached to caps and are tinted soft blue, rose or yellow to match some detail of a white beach costume.

MORE ABOUT STAGE DRIVER

coach, and between Farman and young Trefren there was a bitter feud, climaxed when Farman was taken sick, had to be hauled 20 miles to the railroad, and there was no one to take him but the man who was after his job. When Farman came back he was broken in health, and Trefren got the route and the government contract.

Oldest settlers in the town which became the artists' colony were the Frank Goff and Sherman Goff families, who by that time had moved back to the hills behind the town. The Goffs were crowded out by the swarms of people who were beginning to come for the summer months from Santa Ana, Riverside and other nearby towns. Mr. Trefren said that first summer there were nearly 200 people there.

"The old town started growin' about 1900," he mused. "I remember that year I hauled 80,000 feet of lumber from Santa Ana down there. It was a good 12-hour run, because I used to coax my horses instead of beatin' them."

By then the pioneer transport man had four coaches in his company, which he and his wife, Ada, both drove. Many things happened. Sometimes the horses ran away, sometimes they wouldn't run at all. The Trefrens persevered, and drove on.

And Laguna grew. In 1908 there were as many as 200 winter residents in the city, and in the summers hundreds came to lie on the beach, to shoot quail in the hills, and to paint the rocky bluffs now called America's Riviera.

"It was quite a thing," he said today. "Almost before we knew it came automobiles and asphalt streets and gasoline and big houses. My teams were scared of them all, and mostly of trains. I quit the city about the time the autos came in."

So eventually, in 1908, Trefren quit the stagecoach business and somebody else put a Ford on the run. The road had been fixed by then.

Then Built Highways
He came to Santa Ana, bought a house here at 315 South Shelton street and went to work again, this time building highways for automobiles to cross.

"Not like a good spirited team, they ain't," he says. "But we got to live, so horse or no horse, I helped to build 'em."

Many things have happened to the Trefrens since then, but many of them important, but that is another story.

It was a fine thing to grow up with the beauty of Laguna.

STOCK UP WITH FOODS

If we could always tell when the unexpected guest is due or when the groceries will fail to arrive in time for the quick meal, we might not need an emergency shelf. But since that is impossible, how about stocking up now on soups, cans of spaghetti, chicken and stew, ready prepared that will produce one-dish meals in a jiffy; breads, cakes and desserts all mixed, and relishes to pep the meal up?

TOWNSENDITE FAVORED IN ELECTION

Michigan Advocate of Pension Seeks U. S. Congress Post

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Dec. 13. (AP)—Oratory praising or condemning the Townsend old age pension plan swelled over the third Michigan congressional district today as a special election campaign of exceptional interest—not to say innumerable headaches—neared its close.

The Republican candidate in this preponderantly Republican district is Verner W. Main, who swept to a decisive victory in the five-man primary as an advocate of the plan by which persons over 60 years of age would receive pensions of $200 a month.

Assails Pension
His opponent is Howard W. Cavanagh, an old line conservative Democrat who has assailed the Townsend plan as "unworkable and discriminatory." Both men are attorneys here.

The election will be held next Wednesday to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rep. Henry M. Kimball, who was, incidentally, the fifth congressman from the district to die in office since 1920.

Abandon Coalition
Main's nomination by a vote exceeding that of all four of his opponents combined, created an embarrassing situation for some Republican leaders, but private talk of a coalition of Republicans and Democrats to fight for Cavanagh's election was abandoned, both because party lines are firmly fixed in the district and because the Townsend movement seemed to be gaining ground rapidly.

The 30 Townsend clubs in the district claim a membership of 8000 and they are holding 60 meetings this week in behalf of Main. The national Townsend organization also is helping Main, who entered the primary as a "dark horse." Dr. Francis E. Townsend, originator of the plan, made two addresses for him before the primary.

KNIGHTS ESCORT AT WHITSON FUNERAL
Knights Templar of Santa Ana Commandery No. 36 are to meet at the Masonic temple tomorrow at 1 o'clock in full dress to go as an escort for Santa Ana lodge No. 241, F. and A. M., to the funeral of Eminent Sir W. Verne Whitson, Commander R. W. McKnight announced today.

The escort will go from the temple to the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors for the last rites at 2 o'clock.

Girls Were 'No Man's Land' In Young Days of Dr. Henry Morrison, Santa Ana Visitor

By VIRGINIA SMITH

"Now when I was a young man, a young lady in her sweeping skirts and curls was a beautiful thing to be worshiped. She was no-man's land."

That was a tenet of the behavior creed for gentlemen of the old school in Kentucky when Dr. Henry Clay Morrison, president of Asbury college, Wilmore, Ky., was a boy. Preaching a series of evangelical services which will close Sunday at the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, the educator has been a colorful visitor to Santa Ana.

Women revered men and men worshiped women. My father never stood straight up before my mother in all his life. He always stooped a little in fitting courtesy to the lady. And my mother never disputed his word.

Days of the Orator
"Of course women never met men except at social occasions and they were always at their best. I suppose the advent of women into business has effected the change in relationships," he continued.

"Those were the days of silver-tongued orators. A man had to be a dignified, eloquent speaker to get attention of the crowd."

Students have been the forte of the doctor for a good many years. For 15 years he was president of Asbury college, where he had been welcomed because of his world travels. Ill health caused him to retire, but nine years later when the younger man who had taken his place became ill, he took up the head post again.

Author Was Pupil
Wherever he goes now up and down the coast, in Florida, Michigan, California or New York, former students gather to greet again the silver-haired educator. Last week in Los Angeles at the Trinity Methodist church, 30 of his students gave a banquet for him.

"E. Stanley Jones, whose recent book 'Christ's Alternative to Communism,' has excited interest, was one of my boys," he said.

"I was preaching in a small church in Baltimore, Md., one week. After the service, a slight, fine-looking young man asked me if I knew a college where he could go to have his religion strengthened and not broken down. I told him the Asbury college was such a place."

Advantages in India
"He was a fine student and had a very bright mind. Thousands of persons come to hear him talk at his mission in India."

"Of course, American missionaries have the greatest advantage in India, anyhow, you know," he said. "India recognizes Britain as her ruler, but she also knows that America is the only country that ever defeated England in war. So that makes us the mightiest people in the world."

A Beautiful Town
Santa Ana is a beautiful town in the visitor's estimation.

"My, if that street near the courthouse, with magnolia trees on one side and palm trees on the other, were set down in any other district, people would come from miles around to see such beauty," he added wistfully.

As the old southern gentleman stood in farewell, he straightened his shoulders in his well-fitting cut-away coat and swept to a low bow.

"I longed for crinoline so I could return with a curtsy."

Y. L. I. MEMBERS HAVE KID PARTY AT MEETING
Back to rompers and all-day suckers went members of Capistrano Y. L. I. members at their kid party held last night in the K. of C. hall.

The event honored the eighth grade girls' ball team from St. Joseph's school that defeated the Y. L. I. squad recently in a game. Ice cream and cake and hot chocolate were served at the conclusion of the games. Hostesses were Mrs. J. P. Murphy, chairman, assisted by Mesdames Arthur Steward, Gene Hitt, William Strain and George Schade.

Miss Hubertina Phalen, district deputy, accompanied by Dr. Mary Lewellen, San Diego, and Miss Catherine Robertson, institute deputy, Los Angeles, were honored guests.

Christmas parties will be held for the children in the Mexican centers, the group decided, under direction of Mrs. Clyde Ashen. The organization's next meeting has been set ahead to Dec. 19 and will be held in conjunction with Knights of Columbus. A pot-luck dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock, with entertainment accompanying and dancing will conclude the evening. The affair will celebrate the 13th birthday anniversary of the organization. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. E. J. Vosskuhl at 2184.

May 2 and 3 were announced by Miss Phalen as dates of the district meet at Coronado.

ple in the world to the natives," he mused.

12 Years From Now
The Kentucky educator plays a trick when he tells his age.

"Well, I'll be 90, March 10." His listeners gaped in wonder at his rugged appearance. "Twelve years from now," he concludes.

When he was a little boy, battle alignments were drawn one night across his grandfather's farm in Kentucky during the Civil war.

"I had my first pair of top boots," he said. "When they tore down the fence to make a breastwork for the battle, I was really scared and I decided to wear my top boots to bed. But the enemy never came."

PRESENTATION IS MADE AT MEET HERE

Growth of Organization in California Told by Official

The Orange County Home Owned Business association last night received its charter from the state organization. The presentation was made in the council chambers at the city hall by Russell Bjorn, director of finance in the state association and manager of the Petaluma organization. The charter was accepted by J. H. Bell on behalf of the Santa Ana chapter.

In an address prior to the presentation, Mr. Bjorn told how the home owned business associations have been growing and what they do to stimulate business for their individual members.

Constitution Approved
In connection with the charter presentation, Mr. Bjorn read a telegram from George D. Pollock, Salinas, attorney for the state association, which said that the constitution and by-laws of the Santa Ana organization have been approved.

Mr. Bell first introduced J. O. Smith, secretary and manager of the Santa Monica association. Mr. Smith told of the success which the Santa Monica organization has had in improving business for its members. One of its projects has been the fostering of ordinances helping home owned business, he said.

61 in State
There are now associations in six Southern California cities, and 61 in the state, said Mr. Smith. There are similar organizations in 11 western states.

Mr. Smith said a Southern California office for the association will be opened at Los Angeles about Feb. 15.

Mr. Bell said there are now 120 merchants in the Santa Ana association, of which Robert Schilling is president and Charles Potts, secretary.

AKIN FUNERAL WILL BE HELD SATURDAY
Funeral services for Henry C. Akin, 422 South Birch street, who died Wednesday, will be held from the Winbigler mortuary Saturday at 10 o'clock.

The Rev. Edson Riefenwyder, former Unitarian pastor of Santa Ana, and now of Long Beach, will officiate.

Ritualistic rites of Santa Ana Jubilee Masonic lodge will be given at the funeral chapel, followed by private cremation at Fairhaven cemetery.

HOUSEHOLD SECTION TO MEET FRIDAY
A Christmas party with a gift exchange will follow the luncheon meeting of the Sixth Household Economics section of Elbel club at 12:30 next Friday, Dec. 20.

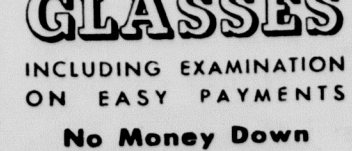

Members who cannot attend are asked to call Mrs. John Harvey at 4372-W or Mrs. Helen Heil at 1511-W, hostesses with Miss Lida Crookshank for the day.

200 Bridge Enthusiasts Spend Pleasant Afternoon at Woman's Club Party

Veterans Hall Festive in Yule Motif

Bazar Popular Feature Of Day; Philanthropy Section Hostesses

Glittering with Christmas trappings in red, silver, green and this year's much-favored blue, the Veterans hall was a gala setting yesterday afternoon for the holiday dessert bridge-bazaar sponsored by the philanthropy section of the Woman's club.

Dusty miller and holly sprigs on a blue dolly centered the card tables early in the afternoon. The hostess committee served home-made apple pie, cheese and coffee. Dainty handmade handkerchiefs went as table prizes for high and low at each card table. Mrs. Hazel Price won a surprise gift. Mrs. R. G. Carman was card chairman, Mrs. J. A. King, general chairman, and Mrs. Gene A. Short, hostess chairman.

Hostesses were Mesdames Short, E. M. Waycott, George De Rouillac, Blanche Hackelton, C. F. Crose, B. Kruger, William Castler, C. H. Powers, W. H. Kuhn, E. G. Warner, E. C. Wilson, W. DeWolf, S. E. Litterell, William Whitehead, William Wells, F. A. Martin and J. A. King and Miss Linda Kroeker.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

What makes a woman attractive, besides a heaven-sent gift of beauty?

Miss Leatha McGill: I think good care of the hair, nails and teeth, together with careful grooming in dress, can overcome much in one who lacks natural beauty. A downright homely person can be attractive, with time and thought given to her appearance.

Mrs. Edwin Wescott: Personality goes farther than good looks. To me an attractive person is one who combines a lovely character with culture and education. Beauty with nothing to back it up is my idea of an unattractive person.

Slenderizing Surplice Tops a Marian Martin House Frock

PATTERN 9609

What if you do wear a 46? No need to sacrifice femininity on that account, for a frock with gracious, slimming lines can make you look as young as you feel. Why not choose an easy pattern with surplice bodice for your next "at home" style-like the one sketched today? Simplicity is the keynote of those sweeping lines that outline the collarless, surplice yoke. See how it takes a jog—halfway down? That's so the eye doesn't come to a too abrupt stop just where we're trying to conceal those extra pounds. It carries right on down into the skirt—a clever piece of designing, we'd say! No reason why a 16 shouldn't look her best in the same frock. Choose percale or broadcloth. Complete, diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9609 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric. Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

The new Marian Martin pattern book will be ready for mailing Dec. 15. Place your order now, and be among the first to receive a copy. It's a practical pattern book that interprets Spring's new fashions in thrifty, easy-to-make clothes for the whole family! Price of book 15 cents, book and a pattern together, 25 cents.

Send your order to The Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Cal.

CHRISTMAS CUSTOM OF STAGING OLD PLAY OBSERVED

Christmas at the Pasadena Community playhouse is a tradition. "The Rose and the Ring," by William Makepeace Thackeray, will open Tuesday for a run of two weeks, to join the ranks of the Yuletide hits of past years.

"Bluebird," "Alice in Wonderland," "Mr. Pickwick" and "Crickets on the Hearth" were among the successes and "The Rose and the Ring" is a happy blend of the gayety of all.

A merry melange of clowns, "In-guns," kings and queens and soldiermen lead a laugh parade of Thackeray characters which fits perfectly into the Christmas spirit.

The Collette dancers will be featured in a company which served over 100 people. Later, by Thomas Browne Henry, directed by Thomas Browne Henry.

In addition to the regular Saturday matinee there will be two special matinees, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 26 and 27.

"The Guardsman," by Ferenc Molnar, now showing at the playhouse, will complete its run Saturday.

FRIENDLY GROUP HAS BRIDGE LUNCHEON IN HARWOOD HOME

Mrs. H. H. Harwood entertained a group of friends Wednesday in her home on Greenleaf street, with a luncheon and an afternoon of contract bridge play.

Mrs. Marguerite Borgmeyer won high score for the day.

Other guests were Mesdames H. T. Dunning, Will A. Flood, Sara Haddon, R. C. Hoiles, I. F. Landis, B. J. MacMullen and H. B. Van Dien.

YOUNG MATRONS STUDY CHILDREN

A group of young matrons who recently organized as the Child Study club were guests this week of Mrs. Robert Smith at her home in Garden Grove.

Mrs. Harvey Emley led a discussion on "Discipline." Later, the group played bridge. Mrs. J. W. Mitchell and Mrs. John Ward won prizes. During the serving of a late supper, gifts were exchanged.

The club members are Mesdames A. Eldelson, John Ward, Harvey Emley, J. W. Mitchell, J. C. Kraushaar, William McClain, Rodney Collins and Robert Smith.

A.A.U.W. Sings Christmas Carols

Christmas crept into the Y. W. C. A. rooms last night when the Orange county branch, American Association of University Women, were led in favorite old carols by Mrs. Mable Spizzy, supervisor of music of Orange county.

Mrs. Faye Spicer, violin; Mrs. Marjorie Dudley, viola; Miss Anna Mae Archer, cello, and Miss Clara Spelman, piano, presented a musical background for the singing. Mona Summers Smith presented a dramatization of Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

Mothers of the members were feted at the meeting.

Before the business session, the recent graduates' group headed by Miss Geraldine Cole, had a dinner. Tea was served from a lace-laid table centered with a white fir tree tied with shiny red balls. Red and white mints, sugar-coated nuts, fruit cake and small leaved Christmas cakes were served. Mrs. Horace Scott, president, poured tea.

Miss Josephine Good, Miss Ruth Stephenson and Miss Lucie McDermott were the evening's social committee.

TABLES GAY WITH HOLIDAY COLORS AT R. N. A. DINNER

Christmas trimmings decked the tables and the hall Wednesday night when Golden State R. N. A. held a pot-luck dinner in the K. of C. hall.

Red candles centered the tables and a decorated Christmas tree stood in the corner. Boxes of candy marked each place and held special awards for B. M. Crawford, Marianna Johnson and Roy Boyd.

Dec. 27, the white membership team will entertain the winning squad at a Christmas party in the lodge rooms.

Installation will be held Jan. 8 for the new officers including Bess Simmons, orator; Nellie Baker, vice orator; Eloisa Cozad, recorder; Maxie Wilson, receiver; Viola Adams, chaplain; Alice Cluster, marshal; Freda Anderson, inner sentinel; Muriel Hansen, outer sentinel; Nola Morse, manager; Paul Carr, musician, and Dr. R. C. Yeagle, examining physician.

Mrs. Christiana Hamill, state supervising deputy, Los Angeles, will install the leaders. Lenore Fletcher, Long Beach, district deputy, will be guest of honor. Hart Pennington is to serve as ceremonial marshal.

The committee Wednesday included Nola Morse, chairman; Jennie Tulene, Mary Schumaker, Mary Stovall and Margie Chapman.

MRS. ALVIN STAUFFER ENTERTAINS WITH CONTRACT PARTY

Mrs. Alvin Stauffer gave a very jolly contract bridge party for a group of her friends last evening in her attractive home on North Bristol street.

Poinsettias lent a gay note to the appointments. Tall red tapers in cellophane and silvered leaf and berry holders centered the tables time. Mrs. LeRoy Dickson and the hostess' mother, Mrs. S. Waterman, assisted in serving.

Mesdames Harold Dale and George Walker won prizes.

Other guests were Mesdames Robert Guild, Clarence Ranney, Crawford Nalle, Gail Jordan, Albert Harvey, Charles E. McDaniel, Jr., Louise Norton, Frederick Elliott and George Spielman.

BRIDGE ENTHUSIASTS MEET IN HOME OF KENNETH SCOVELS

Judge G. Kenneth Scovel and Mrs. Scovel, 1740 North Main street, entertained a group of their friends at a club party in their home, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Scovel and Stanley Clem won prizes in the play.

Others present were Messrs. Raymond, James Mahoney, William Rohrbacher and Mrs. Clem.

DECEMBER PLANS MADE BY GROUP

Two events were scheduled for this month by Wrycende Maedenu members at their meeting Tuesday night in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Next Tuesday night's meeting will be a Christmas party for members and guests with an exchange of 10-cent gifts. The Christmas semi-formal dance will be held in the Y. W. rooms Dec. 21. Mrs. LeRoy Burns read "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke at the close of the program.

40TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION HELD

In honor of the 40th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Koth, Mrs. Carl Glasbrenner entertained them at dinner last evening at the Glasbrenner home on North Pine street, Orange.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Koth and Mr. and Mrs. Glasbrenner, Mary Jane, Carl, Jr., and Louis Koth Glasbrenner were present.

Homecrafts Group Has Gala Day

A gala day opening with a Christmas luncheon was enjoyed by the Woman's club homecraft section in the home of Mrs. Earl P. Ladd, 1325 Cypress avenue, Wednesday.

A brightly decorated fir tree and sprig of holly and silver-tied candles lent color to the party setting. Gifts were exchanged, and Christmas sentiments expressed by each clubwoman present. Chicken pie featured the luncheon menu.

A highlight of the day was Mrs. Billy Quinn's recollection of her "good deed" last Christmas when she dropped provisions down on the desert home of a war veteran's standard family.

Mrs. Quinn, whose plane was flown by the late Monty Monteiro, is one of 25 women in the United States holding a transport pilot's license.

Others present were Mesdames J. G. Limbird, L. G. Holman, E. D. Froeschle, J. McNeill, R. A. McMahon, H. M. Kinslow, E. A. Ellweller, Rolla R. Hays and J. E. Renfer.

MUSTOL TRIO PARTICIPATES IN COMPINSKY RECITAL

Playing the Dvorak "Dumky" trio, the Mustol trio from Santa Ana participated in the concert given Wednesday night at the Pacific Institute of Music and Fine Arts in Los Angeles, directed by Alec Compinsky.

The trio of Mustol sisters includes Virginia, piano; Nathalie, violin, and Evelyn, cello. They have a contract under Mr. Compinsky to tour America next year, and the following season will go through Europe.

The girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Mustol, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rowland attended from Santa Ana.

OFFICERS NAMED FOR TOROSA LODGE

Elinor Pickel was named noble grand of Torosa Rebekah lodge at meeting Wednesday night in the L. O. G. F. hall.

Ethel Brown was elected vice grand; Martha Van de Walker, recording secretary; Blanche Chandler, financial secretary, and Emma Cochems, treasurer.

Both Rebekah lodges will meet with Old Fellows Dec. 23 for their Christmas party. An exchange of gifts will be held among adults and candy and nuts will be given the children.

The first installation will be held with Sycamore Jan. 11 under Blanche Chandler. Cards were played at the conclusion of Wednesday's meeting.

ST. PETER'S AID HEARS OF TRIP

Memoirs of a recent trip to Europe were reviewed for members of St. Peter's Lutheran church ladies' aid at their meeting Wednesday at the church.

Mrs. Jacob Bergsetter, president, officiated. Devotional was led by the Rev. H. W. Meyer. Mrs. Frieda Sorensen read a missionary lesson on "Unto Us a Child Is Born," and Mrs. Meyer on "The Child and Religion."

As a solo presentation, Mrs. K. F. Ehlen sang "Swing Ajar, Ye Gates of Night." Beth Mitchell read "Tomorrow Is Christmas."

The Rev. Mr. Meyer was host, assisted by the Rev. Otto Fischer. Mrs. Frank Yetmore was admitted as a new member.

MRS. RAY SPAUGH ENTERTAINS CLUB

Special honors were extended Mrs. Joe Hershlser in celebration of her birthday when the Glendon contract bridge club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ray Spough, 1130 South Birch street.

A cake had been decorated by the hostess which the honoree cut and served to the guests as part of the dessert course.

High score in the play went to Mrs. Joe Steele, and Mrs. H. H. Dimmitt won the galloping prize. Others present were Mesdames Lloyd Folger, Ray Wyckoff, Ralph Barker and Aschel Hardy.

PAST MATRONS CALLED

Past matrons of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., have been asked to meet at the Smith and Tutill chapel tomorrow at 1:45 o'clock so that they can attend the Walter Verne Whitson funeral in a body.

Mary Stoddard The Weaker Sex Will Keep Its Charms on Earth by Latest Uncle Sam Command

By MARY STODDARD

A woman has a perfect right to be "up-in-the-air" in her very own kitchen and still be within the pale of law—that is, as long as she doesn't heave a burned pie out of the window and have it land on the head of some unsuspecting delivery boy!

But aside from being airy-minded about this or that, Uncle Sam has clamped down on the fair sex. In other words, when we start skyward we must go as passengers, unless we want to go alone.

The bureau of air commerce, upon the advice of its medical division, will soon write into its regulations a ruling that women should never be permitted to act as first pilots on the airlines. The airline medical examiners, composed of a group of 30 specialists who examine airline pilots only, have decreed unanimously that women are not physically or psychologically suited for flying a regular run.

Women's Rights Defied?

Not very many of us have either the training or the desire to pilot commercial transports. The ruling will affect a small percentage of the women of the land. Just the same, the matter of women's rights will come up and some banners will be flown, undoubtedly, proclaiming that a woman can bring in her ship as well as a man can.

If women become unduly excited over this decision, our male contemporaries are likely to take it as only another proof that we should stay on the ground. Clear thinking—and a pilot needs it—shows that where there is the slightest reason to believe that the difference between a man's muscular developments and a woman's may save a ship of passengers, there is only one choice to be made.

We Have Our Place

Wise women know that the anatomical division of the sexes has an influence on divisions of tasks in the economic field. They know, too, that obedience to this division will result in the greatest amount of lasting good to the largest number of people.

Some night, somewhere, though, a man may fall down at the controls and a woman passenger may bring a ship through a storm. That's the interesting thing about life. And aviation.

YULETIDE MOTIF FOLLOWED BY CLUB

Yuletide colors decorated the luncheon table for the Martha Washington club party held at the home of Stella Henderson, 1405 Orange, Wednesday at 1 o'clock.

Members had all brought two gifts, one for a silent sister and another for a gift exchange.

Present besides the hostess were Stella Henderson, Millie West, Ruth Zabel, Marie Zimmerman, Sarah House, Pauline Decker, Elizabeth Jernigan, A. M. Somerville, Doria Jasper, Mae Jackson, Bess McDonald, Inez Baker, May Curtis and Hattie Peters.

Gay Evening Anticipated at Dance

A very pleasant evening. That's what Mrs. Robert Guild and her assisting committees think is in store for Junior Ebbles and friends attending the informal dance the section will sponsor tomorrow evening in the attractive Lido Isle clubhouse.

Mesdames Harold Dale and George Walker are planning music, and Mrs. Thoburn White and Miss Mary Saffley, tickets for the affair. Mesdames Alvin Stauffer and Burt Zaiser are also working on party plans.

Double Bill at Broadway

A new program opened yesterday at the Broadway theater, with the latest Charlie Chan mystery thriller, "Charlie Chan's Secret," and the English comedy, "The Perfect Gentleman."

While "Charlie Chan's Secret," featuring Warner Oland in the title role, retains all in the way of comedy, drama, the atmosphere of personal danger and adventure, suspense and romantic interest of other films, the picture is different from other Chan films. The cast includes Henrietta Crossman, Charles Quigley, Edward Trevor, Astrid Allwyn, Herbert Mundin and Francis Ford.

The second feature on the program features Frank Morgan and Cicely Courtneidge, English star. "The Perfect Gentleman" concerns a gay old dog in London, a retired mayor, who puts up a front despite the fact that he is always broke. Richard Waring, Heather Angel, Henry Stephenson, Una O'Connor and Herbert Mundin have featured roles.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor

By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

AT ONE time we thought that the turkey was a noble bird. We admired his beautiful foliage, his haughty air and his assorted decorations. In our school days he was pictured in books as the emblem of Thanksgiving and was proclaimed the ultimate in edible delicacies. In years past the holidays were ruined if there was no turkey.

Those days, however, are gone. We no longer gaze with hungry envy at turkey-eaters. Never more will we glance into windows on Thanksgiving evening with envious glances at the golden brown bird ready for the carving.

We've had our turkey! Looking back over the past week or so, a procession of eight—count 'em—eight turkey dinners causes severe pain whenever food is mentioned. In uneasy dreams at night, a huge gobble chases a county editor and finally catches him and reduces him to drumsticks, mostly dark meat, and a little dressing.

We contend that eating eight turkey dinners is too much of a task even for a hungry newspaperman. Each and every one of the dinners was a masterpiece. The meat was beautifully cooked. The cranberry sauce was simply gorgeous. The mashed potatoes—well, you know how mashed potatoes can be when an artist stirs 'em around a while and then saturates 'em with gravy. That's all fine. Taking singly, the dinners were wonderful, but add 'em together, and they bring us to a point where we're thinking of investing in every pill and medical concoction on the market.

This isn't meant to cast anything at the woman's clubs and other organizations who work hard to prepare dinner for some meeting or other, either. They do a fine job, and we know that those who attend enjoy the meal. They don't attend as many as we do.

Be that as it may, we have eight turkey dinners on our conscience. Eight turkey dinners, laid end to end, should reach from here to the hospital. And maybe part way back.

If Christmas passes without our starting in to gobble instead of talk, it's going to be a blessing.

Which brings to mind all the turkey raffles. Every third person on the street'll stop, "ahem" a couple of times and then go into a song and dance about the turkey raffle they're representing. How fat the bird is and how lucky the winner'll be, and so on. We've faltered a couple of times and invested.

It'll be our luck to win one of the blamed birds! Friends are worrying already. They don't know whether we're a county editor running around disguised as a turkey or a turkey disguised as a county editor.

Not that it makes much difference.

Speaking of food, we saw a cake yesterday.

Not just an ordinary cake, but one wrapped in cellophane and covered with walnuts and theses and theses and theses—one of those confections that'll make one forget about even a turkey dinner.

"Mother" Channess from Huntington Beach baked it. It'll be given as a prize at the Coast association's party next Tuesday evening. Some lucky person is going to receive one of the best Christmas cakes they've ever eaten—not that we had a sample—we could tell just by looking at it that the cake was one in a thousand. One that mother would have made if she could have cooked like "Mother" Channess. She's already baked more than 60 pounds of cake for friends, and has so many orders that she doesn't know what to do.

Someone else can have the turkey prize next Tuesday. We'll take the cake.

ORANGE 20-30 NAMES HEADS

ORANGE.—Officers elected by the 20-30 club Wednesday evening were Oscar Stuthett, president; Don Guldage, vice president; Martin Newig, sergeant-at-arms; A. C. Myracle, Ernest Hagen, Walter Wacker and Charles B. Richardson, directors. V. G. Wolfe was re-elected secretary and treasurer. Installation will be held the first of the year at a "Ladies' Night" celebration. The evening was spent in repairing toys to be distributed to needy children on Christmas.

SANTA ANAN TO SPEAK AT GROVE

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. George Angne, Santa Ana, will be guest speaker for the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Esther Guild at the First Methodist church Monday evening at 6:30, the program committee Miss Clara Carmichael and Mrs. Grover C. Ralston announced today. A Christmas tree with gift exchange has also been planned.

YEAR END HEAR DR. WARMER TALK
EVENT AT MEETING

Dec. 27, 28 and 29 Dates
Set for Series to Be Held Inside Bay

NEWPORT BEACH.—Plans are being rushed this week by Newport Harbor Yacht club officials for the Christmas regatta which will be staged by the club on Newport bay Dec. 27, 28 and 29. This will be the first inside harbor series of races ever held on the bay made possible through the $2,000,000 harbor development program.

Five classes of craft will be entered. Six and eight-meters, P. C.'s, stars and dinghies will sail in the three-day series to be conducted under the leadership of James F. Webster, who will be one of the leaders in the International Star Boat races scheduled for the port next August.

Boats are being tuned up ready for the approaching series and all yacht clubs of the Pacific coast are expected to be represented at the regatta. Invitations have been sent to all yachtsmen of the coast.

Although no official announcement of entries has been made, it is reported here today that the following well-known sailors will compete in the series: William Bartholomae and his six-meter, "Mystery"; Al Rogers, captain of the six-meters "Synovae" and Tommy Lee, skipper of the "Caprice." Other six-meter entries expected are Russ Simon's "Ay Ay," Donald Douglas's "Gallant," William Candee, who just purchased the "Ripples" from Margaret Adams, Bill Slater's "Lanai" and others.

Among starboats expected are the famous "By-C," sailed by Hook Beardslee, International champion, and Myron Lehman; the "Beatrice" owned by Dr. Kolisch; "Tom Robin," owned by Freda Brown and skippered by Dick Edwards and others.

Among the eight-meters expected are Owen Churchill's "Angelita," Pierre Davis' "Babe" and others, and in the dingie class are the craft sailed by Bill and Art Stewart, Don Douglas and Nick Potter and many others.

L. G. Swales, manager of the Yacht club, is making plans for the reception and entertainment of the guests who will come to attend the races and compete for the handsome silver trophies offered by the club, and for the New Year's eve dinner-dance.

YULETIDE PARTY PLANS FORMED

ORANGE.—The second annual Christmas party, sponsored by the service clubs, will be held Tuesday, Dec. 24, in the American Legion hall. A luncheon which will provide a treat for all needy children in the Orange district, will be served at 12:15, it was announced by Ross Stuckey, general chairman of the joint committee.

A turkey dinner will be served, followed by a program and Christmas tree. Children attending from El Modena will have transportation to and from their homes by committee headed by George Sherwood. The program will be in charge of C. H. Robinson and Ray Arguilla.

The committee from the Business and Professional Women's club is Mrs. Art Mueller, Mrs. Josephine Shell and Miss Dorothy Bartley; 20-30 members are represented by Ernest Hagen and Hart Wayne, the Lions by W. S. Lentz, Arthur Sipherd, C. E. Short and C. W. Coffey, while Rotary club committee is George Sherwood, Arch Burkett and J. T. McInnis.

DR. McAULAY IS P.T. A. SPEAKER IN ORANGE SCHOOL

ORANGE.—A talk on the "Spiritual Need of Youth," by Dr. Robert P. McAulay, was featured in a program at Wednesday's meeting of the Intermediate P.T. A.

Dr. McAulay outlined what a child has the right to expect in the way of spiritual training from his parents, and from agencies outside the home, as the schools and churches.

The 6-2 room gave a Christmas playlet, under direction of Miss Margaret Dean. Mrs. Glenn Reck presided at a business meeting. Tea was served by Mrs. Ed Baier, Mrs. Ray Corona, Mrs. M. E. Hoskins, Mrs. J. E. Atchley and Mrs. A. C. Armstrong.

SAVANNA P.T. A. HEARS PASTOR

HANSEN.—"The First Christmas Tree" was the topic of a talk by the Rev. Claude Brown, Garden Grove, before members of the Savanna Parent-Teacher association here recently.

The president, Mrs. Lottie Heitshusen, was unable to be present and the vice president, Mrs. Charles Moolick, conducted a business meeting. Following the meeting a bazaar was held and refreshments served by Mrs. Ella Kiellier, Lena Adams, Mrs. Miles and Mrs. Reese Hylton.

ORANGE ROTARY MEMBERS HEAR DR. WARMER TALK

ORANGE.—Dr. George Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, Santa Ana, was guest speaker at the Rotary club yesterday, talking on science, peace and Christ.

Because Germany used science in a destructive instead of a constructive way, she has been led to the rear in the march of civilization, he said. For years science trailed performance, but now science leads, and what is to be done with the surplus men, that science has thrown out of jobs, he asked.

"Some will say man is a fighting animal," he said, "yet for the past 500 years men have had to be drafted to fight, and kept in the ranks by force."

"Christ is also bidding for the hearts of the world," he said, "not the Christ of theology, but the Jesus of history, who made good will a national aspect to all nations who want to prosper. The Golden Rule is only a statement of the common good. It is our duty to arise in our might to solve the problems of faulty distribution of products of agriculture and manufacture, which is our only depression," he concluded.

Tom Douglas was program chairman and introduced Benjamin Edwards, Fullerton, leader of the Cantando club, who sang, accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong. Hugo Kirkhofer, guest of A. Haven (Smith), led community singing. President "Bob" McAulay presented roses to three men whose birthdays were celebrated, Louis Koth, Ed E. Chapman, and F. K. Campbell, the latter celebrating his 81st birthday.

LEGION OFFERS HOLIDAY CANDY ELECTION HELP

GARDEN GROVE.—That the Garden Grove American Legion will provide cars for persons desiring transportation to the polls for the water bond election, Dec. 19, regardless of their stand on the bonds was decided at a meeting of the post held Wednesday evening. Those desiring transportation may call the Verano service station, telephone Garden Grove 402. Comrade Boile of the Santa Ana post was a guest at the meeting and spoke favoring the bonds.

Plans were completed for the Christmas party to be given for members of the Legion, the Auxiliary and their families at Legion hall Dec. 19.

FACTS ON FLOOD CONTROL HEARD BY ORANGE WOMEN

ORANGE.—A mass meeting for women voters was held last night in the American Legion hall for the purpose of showing importance of voting for the water conservation and flood control measures Dec. 19.

Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake presided and introduced the speakers, the first of whom was Mrs. Sam Stanley, Tustin. She said that the subject vitally concerns the women of Orange county. The county is fine now, but suppose the water runs out, can our children continue to live here and make a living, she asked.

C. A. Palmer, Orange county agent for federal farm loan agency, spoke, telling how, when pumping was started at Olive 20 years ago, water stood at a level of 80 feet, but now it is 230 feet, or 58 feet below sea level.

W. H. Spurgeon, president of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce, said that passage of the bonds will better the condition of every citizen in the county, due to the increased employment, and direct and indirect benefits to be derived.

Louis Haskins, Anaheim, stated that work would be provided for all who wanted it, as about 6500 men will be needed. He stated that the opposition put out just enough half-facts to befuddle everyone. Questions were answered by Murray Thompson, county flood control engineer.

PLAN FETE FOR SCHOOL TEAM

ANAHEIM.—Paul Demaree, former Anaheim lightweight football coach and four-letterman at Kentucky U., will be toastmaster at the annual football banquet, planned for next Tuesday evening to honor the high school varsity team.

The Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring the banquet, which will be held in the high school gymnasium.

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado extends about 280 miles. In Santa Ana NOW—it's The Journal.

BONDS STUDIED BY G. G. LIONS

GARDEN GROVE.—The Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday was given over to a discussion of the bond election next Thursday with H. Clay Kellogg, H. A. Lake, Vernon King and Ralph Chaffee speaking on behalf of the bonds.

Announcement was made of the Lions council meeting to be held at the Garden Grove Woman's clubhouse, Monday evening with the local club as hosts. Dinner will be served by the wives of members.

H. C. Chambers was program chairman, and Capt. Al Wunderlich, Company I, 185th infantry, national guard, was a special guest. It was announced that a meeting will be held on Tuesday of Christmas week as the regular meeting day falls on Christmas.

PRINTED BIBLE'S HISTORY RECOUNTED BY MINISTER

Speaking before the Santa Ana Rotary club this week, the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered an informative lecture on the beginnings of the present English Bible. His talk was titled "The Early History of the English Bible."

He opened by quoting Whittier's stanza: "We search the world for truth. We cull The good, the true, the beautiful, From grave stone and written scroll."

And all old flower-fields of the soul; And weary seekers of the best, We come back laden from our quest.

To find that all the sages said Is in the Book our mothers read."

The text of his talk follows: "On Oct. 4, 1535, the first complete copy of the Bible, as translated by Miles Coverdale, came from the press. Coverdale did not have the scholarship nor the ability of some of the other students and translators of his day and his Bible makes no pretense to be an original translation. It was translated out of the Dutch and Latin, with the help of a number of translators; many defects were found in the book of which Coverdale was conscious, but he did the work to the best of his ability, openly expressing regret that no better man could be found to do it."

Chief of Translators "William Tyndale was the chief of the translators and played the most prominent part of any in the early history of the English Bible. His New Testament in English was brought from the press in 1525. He undertook the work with the determination that England should have the word of God spread among her people by means of the new invention—printing. He became an exile in order to do that work. He fled first to Hamburg, then to Cologne and finally to the city of Worms where at length he accomplished his design, producing for the first time a complete printed New Testament in English. Many of his days were lived in poverty and distress and amid constant danger. Some 15,000 copies were turned out in four years. They were dangerous merchandise and had to be smuggled into England in barrels, sacks of flour, bales of cloth and every way that could be devised."

"Every effort was made to stop the circulation of Tyndale's New Testament. The Bishop of London had a brilliant idea that a merchant by the name of Pankington might be able to buy up all of the copies across the water. Pankington, who secretly was a friend of Tyndale, agreed that he could probably do more in the matter than any other merchant in England. He told the bishop that if it was his pleasure to place in his hands every unsold book. The bishop, thinking that he had God by the toe when in truth, as he afterwards discovered, he had the devil by the fist, gladly advanced the money for all the books, which he burned at Paul's Cross. Pankington bought from Tyndale at a pretty price all the unsold and unsent copies of the book. Tyndale was able to pay his debts and out of the surplus of the money that remained he brought out a corrected edition which did away with some 2000 errors which were found in the first edition. Thus the bishop got the books, Pankington had the thanks of both parties, and Tyndale had the money."

Burned at Stake "The sequel to this story is that three years after Tyndale's death, in 1538, there appeared in English the first authorized edition of the Bible which was 'authorized' to be used and frequented in every church in the kingdom." On whose preface page appeared the name of the king of England and also the name of the man who had been the bishop of London, who had bargained with Pankington to purchase the Testaments, who had burned at Paul's Cross the translation which now was with his own name on its title page.

"Tyndale was strangled to death and was burned at the stake. As he died he lisped an audible prayer, 'Lord, open the king of England's eyes!' What a pity that he could not see beyond the veil into the future of England and know that within three years his book would be authorized by the king to be read throughout the kingdom. "Before printing was invented, England had a complete Bible which was copied by hand. John Wycliffe undertook the work through the employment of copyists. It took 10 months for a copyist to produce each complete copy by hand. Contrast that record with the modern press and bindery which is capable of turning out, completely bound, 120 copies of the complete Bible per hour. One hundred and seventy of Wycliffe's hand-made copies are still extant, great treasures in the world of literature and letters."

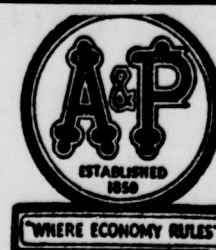

Originals Lost "The original manuscripts of the Holy Book have all been lost, presumably during the era of Christian persecution. Scholars and translators, since the fourth century, have had access only to copies of copies of the originals. There are about 1600 of these parchment copies to which scholars have had access in making the various translations. Three of this number are rated as being the oldest and they are the most complete: the Vatican manuscript is in the Vatican library at Rome while the Sinaitic and Alexandrian are owned by the British government and are found in the British Museum, London. A German scholar by the name of Tischendorf almost accidentally found the Sinaitic manuscript in St. Catherine's convent at the foot of Mt. Sinai in the year 1859. The story of its discovery reads almost like a romance. Tischendorf's first finding 40 of its vellum pages in a wastebasket ready to be used as kindling for the starting of a fire. Fifteen years later, through the steward of the convent, he was able to locate the rest of the manuscript which contained all of the New Testament and part of the Old Testament. Parts of these three manuscripts are missing and we have no copy which contains the entire Old and New Testaments."

Chapters Came Later "The earlier manuscripts have no chapter or verse divisions and usually no punctuation marks. Chapters were introduced by Cardinal Caro in the 13th century while verse divisions were made by Robertus Stephanus in 1551. The Geneva Bible, often called the 'Breeches Bible' from its rendering of Genesis 3:7, where Adam and Eve 'sewed fig-tree leaves together, and made themselves breeches,' was the first Bible to recognize the divisions into verses."

concerning their Koran. The same overruling Providence, who guided men as they wrote, also guided other men as they copied and still others as they have busied themselves with research and translation, so that the Book of Books is our today."

EARLY STOCK FLURRY IS HALTED

Industrial Weakness Halts Up-Trend in Dull Session

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (AP)—Weakness of scattered industrials today unsettled the stock market after the list had staged a quiet rally in the morning.

Tension over silver and foreign affairs seemed to have lessened somewhat, but bullish forces apparently were oppressed by the failure of recent share leaders to resume the forward push. Trading was dull most of the session.

Mining shares such as Cerro de Pasco, American Smelting, U. S. Smelting and Kennecott improved as did Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Western Union and several others. American Can and Continental Can dropped around 3 points each, and American Telephone, Western Union, Union Pacific and Du Pont fell back around a point or more. The tobacco stocks, along with most utilities.

USE QUALITY MATERIALS

For a perfect cake, select only the choicest materials. Let the flour, the foundation of the cake, be the best adapted for cake making. Eggs should be strictly fresh, that they may have the strength to hold up. The sugar should be fine granules. If it is coarse, sift to remove coarse granules.

HOW IT WAS NAMED
The marshmallow takes its name from a marshy plant which grew in Egypt at the time of Moses.

M'FADDEN FIGHTS IRVINE AT WATER BOND MEETING

Charges by Tom McFadden, Anaheim attorney, that counter-proposals to the present water conservation and flood control plans were made for the benefit of the James Irvine interests proved the sensation of a water-bond meeting held last night at Garden Grove.

"The proposal of C. Roy Browning to build a dam which would release 4000 second-feet of water instead of 2000 would provide an extra 1000 feet for Mr. Irvine's reservoir at the head of Newport Bay," Mr. McFadden charged.

"Then more land on the Irvine ranch would be made to blossom and would be worth several thousand dollars per acre. You and I would probably be glad to pay the price for it," Mr. McFadden, speaking in place of H. Clay Kellogg in favor of the present water bond issue, assailed the Browning counter-proposal vigorously, and questioned J. F. Burke's interest in the water question.

Audience Insists

Mr. McFadden spoke through insistence of the crowd of 200, which shouted down Chairman Charles Havens, anti-bond campaigner, when he objected to Mr. McFadden having a place on the program.

The crowd, gathered to hear arguments against the bonds, was definitely on Mr. McFadden's side. "Do you think Mr. Browning is here for his health?" Mr. McFadden queried. The chairman objected. The crowd roared approval.

In charging that Mr. Burke is confusing the issue in his attack on the bonds, he said "In reading

COUP SCORED BY MERRIAM

Governor Gains Control of Liquor Board; Gives Orfa Shontz New Job

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 13. (AP)—An administration determination to clean up liquor conditions in California explains the coup by which Governor Merriam apparently gained control of the board of equalization, a authoritative source said today.

The opinion was expressed that an effort would be made to build an enforcement policy out of the best features of the rival theories on liquor control supported by two factions in the board.

Under the present Collins-Stewart regime, the board assumed complete responsibility for enforcement, contending the constitution required this procedure.

The Riley-Corbett faction contended the responsibility for enforcement should be placed upon local police, the board sitting as a judicial body.

On Tuesday a group of hotel owners asserted that prohibition was in sight by 1936 unless liquor conditions were corrected and asked the board to return to the Riley-Corbett plan.

Merriam's Move

By his appointment yesterday of Orfa Jean Shontz, Los Angeles board member, to a vacancy on the Los Angeles municipal bench, and the selection of Ray L. Edgar, El Centro business man, as her successor, the governor took a step toward meeting these demands of a "cleanup."

Edgar, as the fifth member of an elective board over which the governor ordinarily has no control, will be in a position to cast deciding ballots.

GIRDLES OF CORD

Cord girdles with tassels ends are important on daytime and afternoon dresses, the cord and tassel detail sometimes repeated at the neckline. Two-color tassels are sometimes introduced for contrast.

ON NEW COATS
Norman Hartnell of London is making lavish fur-trimmed full-length afternoon coats the feature of his new collection. Outstanding ones have enormous silver fox collars, cuffs and hems.

GREEN PERSIMMONS
Persimmons are "puckery" because of the large amounts of tannin they contain when green.

MAIN STREET EXTENSION BIDS SEEN

Work Applications Up
For Opening Late
This Afternoon

Bids on widening South Main street between Delhi road and Fairview street were scheduled to be opened late this afternoon in the state highway commission offices at Los Angeles.

Immediate possession of the property needed for the project was available today following the filing late yesterday of a condemnation suit in superior court. Presiding Judge James L. Allen signed an order for immediate possession of 11 parcels of land listed in the complaint filed by City Attorney L. W. Blodgett.

Guarantee Deposited

The order was signed following deposit of $553.10 with County Clerk J. M. Backs to guarantee that funds will be available for payment to owners of the land.

The project is expected to cost approximately $48,215 and will widen South Main street from five to seven feet on the west side. The city's share of the cost will be about $15,542, the balance being provided in a federal grant. The city's portion of the money will come from gasoline tax funds.

Trial Problematic

Whether the condemnation suit will go to trial or not depends upon whether property owners will accept amounts set up in the court's order for possession, it is understood. These range from one dollar to $224.

Individuals who are defendants in the action include Walter C. Dean, Frank R. Hodgson, H. W. Browning, Jennie M. Lloyd, Harry Lee Martin, Sarah S. Moore and Celia Moran as executors of the estate of the late Charles Lloyd, Charles and Martha Humphreys, F. D. Catlin, Veronica and Kingsley J. Meenzhuber, Walter and Josephine Lysle, J. A. and Florence M. Fear, Paul F. and Fay Coar, James V. Meehan, Guy and Sally V. Richmond, Ruby K. Irvin, John W. and Beulah Miller, H. E. and Gladys B. Ludlum, Charly M. Remsburg, Cleve and Blanche Sharon.

EXAMS SET FOR FEDERAL JOBS

Open competitive examinations for United States civil service positions were announced today by Frank Cannon, of the board of examiners, as follows: Awning maker, $1,860 a year, national park service, department of the interior, Washington, D. C.; senior animal husbandman (genetics), $4,600 a year, bureau of animal industry, department of agriculture; social worker (psychiatrics), $2,000 a year; junior social worker, $1,800 a year, veteran's administration; senior chemist (distillation), $4,600 a year, alcohol tax unit, treasury department; welding engineer, various grades, $2,600 to $3,800 a year, navy department.

Open competitive examinations for the position of aircraft electrician, to fill vacancies in the air service, for duty at Luke field, Hawaii, also were announced.

Full information concerning these and other examinations may be secured at the office of Frank Cannon in the Santa Ana post office.

Government Will Probe Fate of Father's Income

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP) That family problem—what becomes of father's income—will be investigated by the government.

Secretary Perkins said a survey of spending distribution—whether the income be derived from wage envelopes or clipping bond coupons—would be made as a work relief project. She said demands from both business and labor prompted the move.

The project will employ 4500 persons taken from relief rolls and will require about 3500 man years of relief work. The cost has not been determined.

TRAVELERS ARE HONORED

Two world travelers, Miss Dora Saunby and Miss Doris Welles, will be honored at the First Methodist church at the service Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Miss Saunby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Saunby, 806 Orange street. She has just returned from a trip around the world, on which she spent nine months in India as a supervisor in the hospital at Kolar, India. She will tell about her experiences.

Miss Doris Welles came from India with Miss Saunby. The occasion of Miss Saunby's trip to India was her friendship for Miss Welles, who is a missionary sent out by the Doris Welles auxiliary of the First Methodist church. Miss Welles is home after seven years of service and will spend a year with her father, Burritt Welles, and her two sisters, Mrs. May Mann and Mrs. Frances Howell.

An Indian home scene depicting the life of the people with whom she works will be set up by Miss Welles for the recognition meeting. An American home scene will be shown in contrast. The program will be dramatized through a group of interested friends.

The committee in charge of the program are Mrs. S. E. Hearn, Mrs. Horton Palmer, Mrs. E. D. Tway, Mrs. M. M. Lane, Miss Esther Henrickson, Miss Kezia Hay, Mrs. George Scarvie and Mrs. W. J. Saunby.

MUSIC AND ARTS INSTITUTE IS OPENED HERE

Twenty local students attended the opening yesterday of the Santa Ana branch, Institute of Music and Arts, 106 East Fifth street, according to Raymond G. Hand, founder and director of the Los Angeles institution.

Mr. Hand founded the Institute of Music and Arts 14 years ago. Instruction in all musical instruments as well as dancing and directing are offered by competent instructors, Mr. Hand said today.

On Dec. 21, at 8 p. m., the institute will present its fourth annual Christmas concert in the Wilshire Ebell club auditorium in Los Angeles with over 300 students taking part. The program will feature an ensemble of 150 violins, a 40-piece accordion band, a 50-piece concert orchestra and a modern Christmas play offered by the drama department. Reservations can be made by telephoning 0730.

PAINT STORE OBTAINS LEASE ON NEW LOCATION

The Pittsburgh Paint store, now located on Sycamore street, has taken a lease on the store room at Fourth and Birch streets formerly occupied by the Tiernan Typewriter company, and will move to this new location just before New Year's.

Edgar Lentz, resident manager of the Pittsburgh Paint store, will leave Friday evening for Seattle, Wash., to attend a company sales convention. He will be gone about 10 days.

Spun glass is the invention of the Venetians.

DENY RE-TRIAL TO ROBINSON

Louis Robinson and I. P. Arnold failed yesterday in their attempt to secure a new trial of the damage action in which Earl McClintock, Los Angeles, had secured a $2750 judgment against them for asserted malicious prosecution. The new trial motion was denied by Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

Mr. McClintock's complaint related that Mr. Robinson swore to a complaint within the 30 days prior to Sept. 17, 1934, charging him with grand theft of a $350 cabin in Trabuco canyon. Later Mr. McClintock was acquitted. He asked $50,000 actual and $25,000 punitive damages in the civil case, and was awarded $1500 actual, $500 punitive and $750 special damages.

HEIRESS DIVORCES

RENO, Nev., Dec. 13. (AP)—Arturo de Peralta-Ramos, tall, handsome member of a wealthy and prominent Argentine family, was divorced at a brief private trial in district court here yesterday by the former Millicent Rogers, heiress daughter of the late Henry Huddleston Rogers, II, Standard Oil magnate.

EXAMS SET FOR COUNTY POSTS

Examinations to qualify persons desiring to become eligible to the positions of county agricultural commissioner, deputy commissioners or county agricultural inspectors will be held in Los Angeles for this district on Dec. 30, it was announced today by County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs.

Those who seek places on the county agricultural inspector eligibility lists will be examined on Dec. 31, places of examination to be determined by the state director of agriculture, depending on the number of applicants in each county, Mr. Tubbs said.

First examinations for these positions will be written, it was explained. A final, oral examination will be held later, place and date to be announced. Strict requirements regarding citizenship and experience are set up.

Complete information concerning the examinations, and application blanks may be secured from Mr. Tubbs in his office in the courthouse annex.

MORE "ROOSEVELT LUCK"

IT SEEMS as if there is no end to the Roosevelt horse-shoe. When he is hit the hardest by some critic of the New Deal, something nearly always happens to the critic.

A notable example today is Congressman Hoepfel of Arcadia who, with his 21-year-old son, was convicted of conspiracy to sell a West Point appointment for $1000.

Hoepfel was elected to congress in the Roosevelt landslide from the 12th California district and was re-elected in 1934. He is 54 years old and his son, 21. Although elected as a Democrat, he has been one of the principal thorns in the side of Mr. Roosevelt, particularly with reference to war veteran compensation. His criticism of the administration probably had nothing to do with his indictment last March but it was an interesting coincidence. Probably more "Roosevelt luck."

Hoepfel, prior to his term as postmaster at Arcadia, had served 20 years in the regular army as an enlisted man and 20 months as an officer. Like other army men he had the extreme military complex and brought himself into prominence by his support of army measures and his unswerving opposition to the President in late months.

The Hoepfels were convicted of conspiring to sell the West Point appointment to James W. Ives, of Baltimore, a former Olympic athlete.

Hoepfel denied he had ever asked Ives for money. Ives, however, said he had been approached by young Hoepfel in Baltimore who said he could have it if he paid it for. He thereupon gave young Hoepfel a promissory note for $1000.

The senior Hoepfel denied all this and said he had nominated Ives to "please" two high-ranking army officers who wanted to send a good football player to West Point. Ives did not qualify for the appointment, Hoepfel testified.

Gradually we get a peep at the inside operations of government and governmental plums. If it takes Roosevelt luck to do it, we hope he has more of it.

EXPERT OPINION

(Orange Daily News)

ASSUMING that both groups (J. Frank Burke and James Irvine, the opponents, and the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company, the proponents) are sincere in their views, which is the better qualified for passing judgment on the water project?

It can be admitted at once that Mr. Irvine thoroughly understands the water situation in Orange county. As the biggest taxpayer in the county, he would contribute most to the cost of the project. His own vast holdings are watered so that his contribution to the cost of the water program would largely be for the benefit of the rest of the county. It is understandable that he should have no very cordial feeling for such a program; nor is he to be criticized for defending his own interests when they seem to run counter to those of the rest of the county. Fairness compels the admission that Mr. Irvine is doing what most of the rest of us would do under the same circumstances. He cannot, however, be regarded as an impartial judge of the water project.

As to Mr. Burke, the basis of his opposition is more obscure. A few years removed from Ohio, he cannot possibly present himself as an authority on water. When he attacks a water program formulated by the best engineering talent in the country, he runs the risk of appearing ridiculous, a risk which Mr. Burke is seldom disinclined to run. The weight of his opinion, compared with the opinions of those who know the water problem, is negligible.

On the other hand, the directors of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company are men who have struggled with the water problem many years. The company is the pioneer of irrigation in Orange county and has carried the battle for a water supply for more than half a century. If any group of men in Orange county is qualified to judge a water project, these men are.

For the most of us, the water question is one for experts to determine. The weight of competent opinion among experts is decidedly on the side of the water program. The voters are justified in approving the water program because competent authority declares the necessity of such a program.

JUST SUPPOSE—

SUPPOSE, in our country, our President forbade us to have Christmas trees. (Mussolini did that in Italy.)

Suppose he ordered us not to read certain books, smile at certain girls, or trade at certain stores whose owners he didn't like. (Hitler did that in Germany.)

Suppose he ordered us to stop wearing soft hats and wear derbies. (Kemal Pasha did that in Turkey.)

Suppose he ordered us to be denied all news of what is going on and given, instead, miles of propaganda. (Japan's emperor, through the ruling military clique, does that.)

Suppose he decided we couldn't live without permits, couldn't move from one home to another without official interference. (France does that.)

Suppose he ordered us shot for disagreeing with him. (Stalin does that.)

You can't suppose an American President doing any of these things—and getting away with it. No American President would try. He knows full well what would happen to him at the next election.

America may be proud of herself for many things. She should be proudest that, in a mad, dictator-ridden world, she has managed to keep her sanity, managed to preserve a measure of independence for the people, had the backbone to stand up and fight against the few attempts made by over-enthusiasts to regiment her people into political pawns.

Whimsies

of O. O. McIntyre

Thoughts while strolling: Who remembers when a fellow could build up an estate for his family?

Skid - on - a - banana - peel name: Yasha Bunchuk. And the name of the English author Warwick deeping suggests an armored knight guarding the bridge over a saddle mount.

Study in animation: Buff Cobb. Everything in "midnight blue" in men's evening dress. Anna May Wong always pivots the sidewalk crowds.

A stiff sudden breeze and away would go Joe Weber. How Dave Stamper can pick 'em up and lay 'em down. Crack muffer wearer: Whitney Warren.

Top in salty ribaldry: Peter Aho. The town's No. 1 Laugh: A. Robin, the clown in "Jumbo." Add fellows who look all right in derbies. Roland Young, Major Bowes and Billy Seeman. The editor writers rarely see: Fulton Oursler. They're certainly stuffing George McManus with lunches and dinners.

Democracy, 1935: The Marquis de Falaize de la Coudray receiving a commoner's greeting of "Hi Hank." Few ladies look so distinguished as the white-haired Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler. Or express the fragile beauty of Clare Booth Luce. Whatever became of money?

Those twins, Lady Furness and Gloria Vanderbilt, look as though they had just "shot the works" in a beauty parlor. You know, glossy. Title for a travesty on success articles: "Worthless Advice of a Failure." Girls holding up Gen. Hugh Johnson for autographs. Something about a soldier!

They buried Ralph Barton's brother Homer the other day. Long a player of small roles, he was one of those dependable actors who never achieved a spectacular role. But attained a contentment rare among stage folk. All his New York years he lived in a typical theatrical hotel hard by the Palace but was little interested in the capers of Broadway. He was one of the town's most indefatigable explorers. There was scarcely an inch of the island he had not been over afloat. He knew it from the Battery to Spuyten Duyvil as few men of his time.

The so-called "Algonquin crowd" recently came in for this pot-shot fired by Time. In speaking of two volumes of the collected work by F. P. Adams the magazine observed: "... his association with the tight little group of egocentric characters who think they do New York's journalism thinking." Think is high in understatement. The boys know they do.

Harry Lehr was first of the dandies publicly to boast using perfume. He would exploit some new scent by dashing it plentifully on his cuffed kerchief and flit it under the noses of ladies at dinner parties. Many thought it an additional gesture in his chronic boredom, but it was a publicity stroke for a Parisian perfumer. Incidentally, there are now 32 different perfumes, toilet waters and colognes designed especially for men.

The widow of Clare Briggs and her blonde daughter Clare II have purchased an estate in Virginia near that of the Percy Croxlys. The daughter has shown unusual talent for art, specializing in landscapes and the new home provides many satisfactory vistas for her brush. Mrs. Briggs also paints a little.

Zoe Beckley is farthest north among the clock athletes. She abhors them. To her every clock is a horological horror. She once fled a London hotel in the middle of a foggy night because of the hourly booming of Big Ben. In her Connecticut home the only time-piece she permits is in the kitchen. When traveling the first thing she does in reaching her hotel room is to order the clock, if any, removed.

Edgar Wallace of Wallace Edginger—I'm always mixing them. Anyway one of the other as the story went, always carried a his-cut-sized hunting case watch that closed with a snap. The tick could be heard a foot away. It was a 21st birthday present and without it the owner simply felt lost. And could not sleep.

Few metropolitan characters express the eggshell brittleness of those pitch men in shiny serge who hold their daily bazaar along the library wall. They have a philosophy and acerbity entirely their own. Today one, having worn himself to a whisper after a no-sale pitch, flipped his cigarette gutterward and observed to no one in particular: "All the choice rats are not in the sewers."

EVERYDAY MOVIES

By Denys Wortman

"Come now, none of that nonsense, you've GOT to see Santa Claus!"

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. — The league has weathered some hazardous tests in recent months, but perhaps its hardest will come when the question of an oil embargo arises.

If the committee of 18 votes to bar oil from Italy immediately, it means either that Mussolini is finished or else that in desperation he plunges all Europe into war.

For oil is the life-blood of the Italian military machine. Italian transports could not carry troops and supplies to East Africa. Italian tanks could neither advance nor retreat on the Abyssinian front. And Mussolini's crack air corps which has been breaking up Abyssinian troop concentrations, would be grounded.

No wonder Mussolini threatened war against the world. Latest official prognostications received here, however, indicate the league will dodge the issue. The committee of 18 will vote sanctions but delay application until around Jan. 1.

Public excuse will be the desire to know whether the American congress will vote an embargo on oil.

Present prospects are that if Geneva waits for congress, Mussolini should not have much to worry about. Legislation now being drafted by Senator Bone, who forced the present neutrality act on the White House—calls for no embargo on oil. Other senators indicate an oil embargo will be difficult.

If passed, at all, certainly it will not come until late January or even February.

YOUTH-AGE

The most conservative and recalcitrant member of the supreme court today undoubtedly is Justice James Clark McReynolds. His voting record has been 100 per cent against all New Deal measures, 100 per cent for "Big Business."

When the court, by a scant 5-4 vote, decided to uphold the gold decision, McReynolds delivered a scathing denunciation from the bench, virtually branding the decision a miscarriage of justice. However, it was not always thus. As a young lawyer in 1907, McReynolds was with the famous New York law firm of Cravath, Henderson and de Gersdorff. He resigned, however, in order to prosecute the tobacco trust, one of the firm's most important clients.

HAIRLINE PROSPERITY

Charles R. Gay, head of the New York Stock exchange, is telling the following story in connection with current business conditions:

A business man rushed into the office of his partner with the jubilant cry, "Jim, I've just checked over our books and we are out of the red at last!"

"Great! I'll buy a bottle of black ink when I go out for lunch."

"No, no! Don't do that," was the excited answer. "The price of a bottle of ink will put us back in the red again!"

PRISON GOODS

Ever hear of Federal Prison Industries, Inc.?

This year with prison rolls at a record high, FPI, Inc., expects to do even better. There are now over 15,000 inmates in federal penitentiaries, of whom only 15 per cent are employed in the workshops.

Products made in federal "pens" are sold only to the government and at market prices. They include shoes, uniforms, underwear, cotton textiles, rubber goods, furniture, cast iron goods, brooms.

Only inmates with good behavior records are employed, and long-term prisoners get the preference. The work week is limited to a maximum of 40 hours. During the NRA, code hour regulations were followed.

Pay is on a low-piece work basis, with most of the salary sent monthly to the families or dependents of the workers.

Most of the big prisons specialize in one type or product. Atlanta, for example, has a large textile mill that makes canvas for mail bags, cotton duck for uniforms, sheeting and mattresses. Last year the plant's sales in these commodities amounted to $652,000.

Leavenworth's chief industry is shoes, of which it turned out a total of 300,000 pairs in 1934. Sale to the Indian bureau, army and navy and other prisons grossed $600,000.

The reformatory in Chillicothe, Ohio, was originally planned to make cast-iron mail boxes. However, the postoffice department objected to depriving a private concern of this business and the project was abandoned.

Alcatraz, where Al Capone and other big-shot gangsters are incarcerated, concentrates on laundry work, doing the washing for naval and other government ships coming into San Francisco harbor. Last year this business netted $29,000.

Federal Prison Industries, Inc., is managed by the bureau of prisons, an agency of the department of justice. The goods it sells are only a small fraction of the $200,000,000 worth of similar supplies the government buys annually from private industry.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Latest Tugwell effort to tell the public about his resettlement program has been stymied. He wanted to spend money on radio recordings to be distributed to stations through the country, but treasury officials said no. "Rainbow trout" hatched in the basement aquarium of the department of commerce differ from rainbow trout in streams because they have no rainbow. Lack of sunlight is supposed to be the reason. To Congressman Kent E. Keller of Illinois, there is nothing strange in the names Stradivari, Amati or Guarneri. He has studied the lives of the Italian violin makers, is himself an expert on manufacture of violins. Latest fatality in CCC camps was at a camp entertainment. One of the boys was doing a stunt, standing on his head in a chair, fell to the floor and broke his neck.

ACQUIRES DIESEL TRAINS

MADRID (AP)—Diesel-powered, stream-lined trains are to be placed in service between Madrid and Hendaye, on the French frontier. They will reach 75 miles an hour and cut the present 12-hour schedule by one-third.

Remarkable Remarks

Another old idea is that you have to be rich to be a patron of art. Absurd! Everybody should be a patron of art. We need it in our homes, and the artists need a chance to express themselves. Holger Cahill, director of WPA Art Projects.

It may do the farmer more good to pay him additional money, but how much of this money actually remains with the farmer after he pays the rises in clothing and tools that have come as an indirect result of this attempt to raise prices?—The Rev. Dr. James J. Henry, New York.

Art Frost, custodian of the Edison interests at Huntington Beach, was in Santa Ana yesterday trying to collect some information about taxes. He went to this one who sent him to that one, and when I saw him he wanted to know how far it was to Huntington Beach, and how long, in my humble opinion, would it take him to get there. Rather got the impression the boy was discouraged.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Don't ask me! That's the placard I'm going to hang around my neck so inquiring visitors can get their information about parking from the man who knows. Every day someone wants to know either about the red or the yellow or the green painted curbs, if they are the prevailing colors, whether they are fast or slow, belong to the rainbow family or just members of the city council. How am I to know about any color except red. That's been predominating for the past five years, so far as my records are concerned.

My conversation with retailers impart an acceleration of holiday trading. The improvement is perceptible on the streets, as pedestrians move from store to store with their arms full of holiday gifts. It puts a smile on the face of the merchant, and joy in the heart of the casual observer because he knows that every package will bring happiness to someone. Let joy be unconfined. The bells will sound sweeter Christmas morning if the day is ushered in with a remembrance.

Looks like Orange county is passing out of the political picture. State Senator Nels Edwards is not to be a candidate for reelection; Ted Craig, who arose to the prominence of speaker of the assembly, refuses to stand for death, and there is another rumor that Jimmy Utt can make more money staying home attending to his own business than he can looking after the state's business. Compensation for legislative service is now and always has been notoriously inadequate. So the situation sooner or later resolves itself into the question of self-preservation. The statesman is worthy of his hire.

My acknowledgments to the charming young lady who escorted me across a busy intersection. I might have been able to negotiate the distance alone, but it is much more agreeable to have someone with you, especially when your escort is identified with the city's official family, and the mutuality synchronizes.

And when there comes within my observation one Byron Gray, one James Sleeper and one Bry Williams, who look at me and then laugh, well, I'm just naturally suspicious of that triumvirate. The trouble with those birds is they don't tell me anything until after it has happened.

Last we forgot, and many of them did. Yesterday was election day. Some of the voters did not find it out until they tried to get into the cocktail parlors. And were their faces red?

And then there was the fellow who tried to vote in the wrong precinct. Won't tell you his name but he just finished writing this item. However, the error was corrected later through the help of Guy Gilbert, who located the right precinct, and the vote was cast for the affirmative.
